ADMINISTRATION OF JUSTICE

New German Laws

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).]

Berlin, July 5.
The fundamental change in the administration of justice in Germany is effected by the first article of the new penal code, published in the official gazette on Friday which defines crime not only as an infringement of any article of the code or other existing law but also of any act which is considered to merit punishment in the light of underlying idea in any law or from the standpoint of a sound national sentiment.

The revised provisions regarding the army and military service take the most important place in the new code. Nobody is liable to military service whether he has served or not, that is practically every man between the ages of 18 and 45 may leave Germany without permission under penalty of from one to six months' imprisonment, and attempt to do so is being made punishable.

Sentences up to 10 years hard labour are provided for any one who induces or assists German soldiers to desert his colours or participates in recruiting Germans for any Army belonging to a foreign power.

The minimum penalty for self inflicted injury with the object of evading military service is one year's imprisonment while penalty for damaging army property ranges from one month's imprisonment to death penalty.

The provisions relative to endangering means of public transport formulate a new conception; a common danger. This embraces any danger to life or person even if the question is only one of individual as well as substantial and material damage and is punished with hard labour or life long imprisonment, and death for flagrant cases.

Imprisonment is the penalty for public abuse of the nationalist Socialist party associated organisations and their symbols standards, flags and badges or for any attempt to hold them in contempt.

Anybody who does not render assistance in accident or cases of common danger although from a standpoint of sound national sentiment it is his duty to do so particularly when his help is requested by the police can be fined or imprisoned up to two years.—Transocean Kuo Min

THE OUTLOOK CHEERFUL

Bill Passes Third Reading

London, July 5.

The Finance Bill was read for the third time in the House of Commons to-day and immediately after was introduced in the House of Lords. The Chancellor of the Exchequer, Mr. Neville Chamberlain, in moving the third reading said the budget had brought very near to completion his task of removing the burdens imposed in the crisis of 1931 and restoring national credit.

Mr. Neville Chamberlain

After describing the widespread benefits conferred by the remissions of taxation and the full restoration of salary cuts, Mr. Chamberlain referred to the signs of economic progress which entitles him to claim that the "outlook remains persistently and doggedly cheerful."

Railway traffic, bank clearings and retail trade all showed steady rises. Exports were up by £218,000,000 for first five months compared with 1934, and imports of raw materials showed an encouraging increase.—British Wireless

FRANCO-SOVIET PACT

Berlin Makes An Enquiry

London, July 5.

A note was to-day handed over to the German Ambassador in London in relation to the recent inquiry from Berlin as to the effect of the conclusion of the Franco-Soviet Pact on the undertakings given under the Locarno Treaty. A similar inquiry was addressed to other Locarno powers.

The terms of the French Government's memorandum, in reply, have been carefully studied by His Majesty's Government who have been in close consultation on the subject with the French Government.

The British Note states that His Majesty's Government agrees with the view expressed in the French memorandum and that so far as Britain is concerned, the provisions of the Locarno Treaty were in no way modified or defined by the conclusion of the new treaty.—British Wireless

FRANCO-GERMAN AMITY

Direct Negotiations Urged

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Paris, July 5.
Following the example set first by ex-Premier Herriot and then by M. Beranger, Chairman of the Foreign Affairs Committee of the Senate, M. Bastide, Chairman of the Foreign Affairs Committee of the Chamber, has now pronounced in trenchant terms that direct negotiation between France and Germany is the only way out of the present chaotic state of international relationships.

Speaking to a representative of the "Petit Journal," M. Bastide declared with emphasis: "At all times and under all Cabinets I have always advocated direct Franco-German conversations. I take the view that deliberations with Chancellor Hitler, who represents the overwhelming majority of the German people, must be fruitful.

"Such negotiations might doubtless have taken place under more favourable circumstances had we seized the initiative long ago. But I believe that the longer we wait the more difficult it will be.

"I know that discussion at this juncture would be taking place at a delicate moment. But after the London negotiations nobody could regard it as reprehensible or prejudicial if we were to get into direct touch.

RELAXING TENSION.
"It is not a matter of attempting to go to the limits of extreme fraternisation, to result in immediate disarmament. I believe that real disarmament is only attainable through very long experience in a Franco-German rapprochement. This is one reason more why we should take in hand as quickly as possible the work of relaxing the tension.

"It would be most advantageous to be able to speak with Herr Hitler himself. Moreover, it is well known that M. Laval, as he himself on numerous special occasions has emphasised, is very much in favour of a rapprochement with Germany.

"In the interests of all," said M. Bastide in closing, "and in the interests of France I advocate direct Franco-German negotiations and believe that this would serve the cause of agreement between the two countries."

HAPSBURG PROPERTIES

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Vienna, July 5.
The value of the property which will return into the possession of the Hapsburg family through the decree passed on Thursday by the State Council was estimated to be between 2 to 2½ milliard Austrian schilling.

This property is divided into two classes: that which the State formerly put at the disposal of the rulers for the purposes of administration and representation, and that which according to the family law is alienable property to the family.

The first category, which cannot be returned by the State to the Hapsburgs for private use includes Hofburg and Schönbrunn Royal Residences of Vienna, as well as Augarten and Belvedere Palaces, Hermitage and Lainzer Park in the capital.

Among the other country palaces and residences, the best known is Laxenburg Palace where the late Emperor Karl and his family sought refuge during the revolution. The State Opera, the Burg Theatre, Court Museums, natural history museum, and the national library in Vienna will also naturally remain at the disposal of the State.

ROBBING A TEMPLE

Sentences totalling 12 months' hard labour were imposed on Wong Yau, a 32-year-old unemployed, when convicted before Mr. E. I. Wynne-Jones at the Kowloon Magistrate's Court on Saturday of breaking into the Sheung Tai Temple, in Lever Street, and for returning from banishment without an authorised permit.

That the complainant Chui Yin, the caretaker of the Temple after locking the Temple before going to Chinese theatrical performance a short distance away, saw the defendant entering the Temple, was the statement made by the prosecuting officer, Inspector Chester-Woods of the Kowloon City Police Station.

Defendant's record showed that he had two previous convictions and was only banished at the end of March this year.

OLD WOMAN ROBBED

Yet another highway robbery was reported on Island Road on Saturday when Lo Sze, a 56-year-old widow, whilst walking along the road near Tai Tam Tuk reservoir near Tau Wan, was suddenly confronted by a man who took from her person a sum of $3.

Describing her assailant as a man of 25 years of age, medium height and built, wearing clothes, with no shoes or socks and who spoke the Punt dialect, the unfortunate woman stated that she was too overcome by fear to call for help and in her confusion did not notice which way the robber made off after taking her money. The incident occurred at about 3 p.m.

Chan Lap Sing, unemployed, was on Saturday sentenced to one year's hard labour for returning from banishment. Defendant, who was previously convicted for armed robbery, was last year banished for 10 years.

Sentence of two months' hard labour was imposed on Ng Ping-cheung, a 32-year-old unemployed who appeared before Mr. E. I. Wynne-Jones at the Kowloon Magistrate's Court on Saturday on a charge of stealing an alarm clock from Lau Kwai-nagi, a merchant residing at No. 4 Canton Road second floor.

In order to enable the defendant to produce a witness, Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen on Saturday at the Central Police Court adjourned the case in which Mok Tak, a travelling trader, was charged with the theft of a blanket from Wong Sik Tin, a stall fook, at No. 30 Staunton Street on Saturday morning.

BOATMEN FINED

Mr. P. H. Sin appeared before Mr. Macfadyen at the Central Police Court on Saturday to defend three Chinese, Tam Hing, Tam Hum and Po Lal, members of the crew of the Tai Ping tow-boat, Sam Shun Lee, who were charged with infringements of the Customs regulations.

Prosecuting, Revenue Officer A. W. Grimmett stated that on July 2, Revenue Officer Major, together with a party of Chinese searchers, made an examination of the tow-boat at Connaught Road West and while Revenue Officer Major was playing his torch light on the boat the first defendant was seen in the act of dumping jars of Chinese wine into the harbour.

Tam Hing, the first defendant, charged with throwing dutiable spirit into the harbour from the tow-boat, to avoid seizure, was found guilty and fined $100.

Tam Hum, the second defendant, was fined $15 for having in his possession a quantity of dutiable spirit, while Po Lal, the third defendant, was fined $25 for having in his possession a quantity of dutiable tobacco.

Appearing before Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen at the Central Magistrate's Court on Saturday, Chan Ting and Lau Lal were bound over in a bond of $50 each to keep the peace for one year, when they were charged with disorderly conduct at No. 12 Yim Fong Lane.

In a quarrel that had arisen over a debt of $4 which had been outstanding for two years, bowls, porcelain pillows and other things were thrown by the two defendants at each other.

Although both parties sustained slight injuries, one of the missiles hit the wife of the second defendant, who had attempted to intervene. Fortunately she was not injured very severely.

Pleading guilty to a charge of stowing away aboard the S.S. Empress of Japan from Shanghai, Wong Kam-yau, a 28-year-old unemployed, was fined $25, in default one month's hard labour, when he appeared before Mr. E. I. Wynne-Jones at the Kowloon Magistrate's Court on Saturday.

Charged with the theft of a marble clock, a fountain pen, a leather handbag, a powder box, a pair of spectacles and money, to the total value of $95, an unemployed Chinese, Kwan Shung, was sentenced to six weeks' hard labour by Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Police Court on Saturday. Accused was also ordered to pay $50 to the complainant, a lady resident of Lyttleton Road, as compensation or to serve an additional six weeks' imprisonment.

THE DESTITUTE CHILD

Appeal For Help

The annual appeal by Dr. Barnardo's Homes for their Food Fund is one which deserves support by all who care for children, more than 8,000 of whom are always in their care.

The Charter of Dr. Barnardo's Homes is "No Destitute Child Ever Refused Admission." Rescued from conditions of poverty and neglect all of these little mites need special dietary care and attention if they are to develop along normal healthy lines.

It is the aim of the Homes to build up these C3 children into healthy and purposeful A. 1. citizens.

Bread is a big item where 8,300 children are concerned; and bread they must have. Think of this! 1,600 loaves are baked daily by Barnardo's bakers, but these loaves supply "less than half" the family.

Milk too plays a conspicuous part in the children's diet. 1,000 gallons a day have to be provided!

These are but two items in a simple but necessarily nourishing food plan for this family.

To help meet the Children's Food Bill the Homes have once again issued their Annual Appeal for 400,000 Half-crowns, and they are relying upon their friends in the Homeland and Overseas to join in helping to feed these destitute children. Single Half-crowns, or any multiple of it, will be grate-

"DEAD" MAN COMES TO LIFE

Shanghai, July 3.

How "dead" man came rapidly to life is related in a Chinese report from Chinkiang. "Double Son" Liu is a notorious bandit, and has been long sought by the Kiangsu bandit-suppression forces. The police gradually closed in on him and, fearing that he would be captured, Liu hit on the novel scheme of hiding in a coffin in his home.

Well primed by the bandit, relatives announced to the village that Liu had committed suicide, the announcement bringing considerable relief to the harassed villagers.

Eventually the bandit-suppression officers, in their search, reached Liu's village. Before the news of his death could be confirmed by them, however, a fire broke out in a house adjoining Liu's. This was too much for the "dead" man, who suddenly dashed from his underground home and bolted for the countryside. Before he could be captured by the astounded villagers and police, he had made good his escape. It is not expected, however, that the police will be overlong in rounding him up.

fully received by the Homes at Headquarters.

These Barnardo children are among the future upholders of the race, and they badly need all your help. Please don't fail them.

Over 117,000 have admitted since the work began, and 30,784 have gone overseas and have made good.

HARVESTING OF CROPS

Difficulties In

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Moscow, July 6.

No further doubt about the great difficulties in harvesting this year's crops with which the Soviet Union is forced to cope may be entertained, since these are now officially admitted in a statement issued yesterday, promulgating a decree designed to secure the safety of the harvests in the districts around Moscow, Stalingrad, and the former rich grain-bearing Lower Volga territory of Zaryzin.

The decree reads: "After hearing what the authorised directors of the grain harvesting organisations of these two important food-producing areas have to say, it is hereby recorded that the preliminary work of garnering and storing the new harvest is unsatisfactory."

"For instance, in the Stalingrad district the erection of not one single granary has been completed, despite the strict order that these should be finished by July 1. In the Moscow district conditions are just as bad only three of the 13 drying plants projected being finished. The repair of elevators, drying rooms, and mechanised grain storage plants ordered long ago has not even been begun. Out of 700,000 corn sacks only 22,000 have been disinfected."

The decree, which is signed by M. Antipoff, Chairman of the Committee for Party Supervision, furthermore declares that the preparations for harvesting are particularly backward along the Black Sea-Azov-Saratoff district, at Kubysheff, formerly Samar, and Voronezh.

EXTRACTS FROM THE GAZETTE

Crown Solicitors Ordinance

The "Gazette" contains the draft of an Ordinance to amend the Crown Solicitors Ordinance, 1912, and to repeal the Crown Solicitors Amendment Ordinance, 1924.

It is explained that Section 2 of the principal Ordinance, authorising the appointment, as Crown Solicitor of any person possessing the qualifications which would entitle the Court to approve, and enrol him as a barrister or as a solicitor under section 21 of the Legal Practitioners Ordinance, No. 1 of 1871, and as Assistant Crown Solicitor of any person who had successfully passed all the examinations required of a student before admission as a barrister or advocate in Great Britain or Ireland or as an attorney, solicitor, writer or law agent in one of the Courts in London, Dublin or Edinburgh or as a proctor in any ecclesiastical Court in England.

Section 2 of the new Ordinance substitutes a new section 2 (1) which will allow the appointment, as Crown Solicitor or Assistant Crown Solicitor of any barrister, advocate, solicitor, law agent or proctor or any member of the Colonial Legal Service, and as an Assistant Crown Solicitor of any person who has successfully passed the examinations required before admission of a barrister, solicitor, law agent, proctor or any member of the Colonial Legal Service. The words expression "law agent" includes Writers to the Signet, Solicitors of the Supreme Courts and Procurators in the Sheriff Court.

This substituted section will not only conform more closely with section 21 of Ordinance No. 1 of 1871, as amended by section 2 of Ordinance No. 13 of 1931, but it will also remove a restriction which might prevent the appointment of any member of the Colonial Legal Service with some other Colonial legal qualification as Crown Solicitor or Assistant Crown Solicitor. In a Circular Despatch dated July 13, 1933, the Secretary of State has requested the removal of any such statutory restrictions.

Section 3 and 4 of this Ordinance amend sections 3 (1) (a) and 4 of the principal Ordinance by including the Air Authorities and His Majesty's Trade Commissioner in Hong Kong among the authorities for whom the Crown Solicitor and his assistants may act with the consent of the Governor.

It is notified that His Excellency the Officer Administering the Government has approved of the formation of the Hong Kong Travel Association and has appointed the following to be the first Board of Directors of the Association:—

Mr. Ma Man Fai.
Mr. Norman James Perrin.
Mr. James Harper Taggart.

EX-KING GEORGE'S DIVORCE

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).]

Bucharest, July 8.

Ex-King George of Greece was not present and was not represented this morning when the Appeal Court dealt with the final stages of the petition for divorce lodged by ex-Queen Elizabeth, sister of King Carol of Rumania.

To-day's legal proceedings were really only a formality, since the terms of the separation were settled by mutual agreement some time ago. Nominally the grounds for the divorce are given as "desertion." The financial aspects were settled voluntarily six months ago.

Thus ends in failure the ambitious scheme devised some years ago for an alliance of Yugoslavia, Rumania, and Greece by a series of royal inter-marriages, King Carol of Rumania marrying Princess Helene, sister of King George of Greece, this marriage having ended in a fiasco; and King George of Greece marrying King Carol's sister Elizabeth, this union being now dissolved by royal proclamation.

OTTO WAITING TO BE RECALLED

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).]

Paris, July 6.

The pretender to the Austrian throne, the Archduke Otto, as well as other members of the Hapsburg family refused to make a statement to a party of French and other journalists who had proceeded to Stenackerzeel in Belgium in order to hear the former Austrian ruling family's viewpoint in connection with the repeal of the anti-Hapsburg law by the Austrian Government.

The reason given for the refusal was that the obligations assumed by the Hapsburgs in view of the hospitality granted them by Belgium forbade them from making any political statements.

The correspondent of the "Journal," however, elicited the remark from the Master of the Household, Count Mirbach, that the Hapsburgs probably would not take any vacation during the present year. As Count Mirbach refused to add anything to this cryptic comment the journalist was left to draw his own inferences, which he did by writing: "I am convinced that time and the Chancellorship of Europe are working for him. Otto of Hapsburg is hiding his time without impatience."

CALL RETURNED

Admiral Visits The Commodore

On Saturday morning Vice Admiral Chan Chak of the Chinese Navy, paid a personal visit to Commodore C. G. Sedgwick, in return to a call paid by the latter on board his flagship, the "Hal Chai" at 10.30 a.m. on Friday. The H.M.S. "Tamar" fired a salute of 15 guns.

Vice Admiral Chan Chak, who is the head of the Naval Department of the Military Council in Nanking, only arrived in the Colony on Thursday night from Shanghai. He is acting, we understand on instructions of the Central Government, who have dispatched him to take the two rebel cruisers, "Hal Chai" and "Hal Shen" back to the North.

These two vessels, will not leave the Colony until some time towards the end of next week, but no reason is given for the seemingly long delay.

THE KING'S REPLY

A Commonwealth Of Peace

The following is the text of the King's reply to the Addresses:—
My Lords and Members of the House of Commons:

I thank you from my heart for your loyal Addresses, and for the words of devoted affection which you have used in speaking of myself, of the Queen and of our Family.

Your presence here to-day, accompanied by the Prime Ministers of the Dominion of Canada, the Commonwealth of Australia, the Dominion of New Zealand and the Union of South Africa, gives rise to many memories and many thoughts. The Mother of Parliaments and her children, grown to full estate, stand now upon equal terms in common allegiance to the Crown. The unity of the British Empire, is no longer expressed by the supremacy of the time-honoured Parliament that sits here at Westminster. The Crown is the historic symbol that unites this great family of nations and races, scattered over every quarter of the earth. The United Kingdom and the Dominions, India, the numerous Colonies and Dependencies, embrace such wide varieties of speech, culture and form of government as have never before in the world's history been brought into a Commonwealth of Peace.

In these days, when fear and preparation for war are again a part of the world, let us be thankful that, quiet government and peace prevail over so large a part of the earth's surface, and that under our flag of freedom so many millions eat their daily bread, in far distant lands and climates, with none to make them afraid.

I especially welcome here to-day representatives of my Indian Empire.

JOINT INHERITANCE

This, my Palace of Westminster, in the mighty heart of our Empire, is the very cradle of our envied Parliamentary institutions. Here is the anvil whereon our common law was forged, to become the joint inheritance of the United States of America and our own community of peoples. Beneath these rafters of medieval oak, the silent witnesses of historic tragedies and pageants, we celebrate the present under the spell of the past.

It is to me a source of pride and thankfulness that the perfect harmony of our Parliamentary system with our Constitutional Monarchy has survived the shocks that have in recent years destroyed other Empires and other liberties. Our ancient Constitution, ever adaptable to change, has during my reign faced and conquered perils of warfare never conceived in earlier days, and has met and satisfied new democratic demands both at home and overseas. The system bequeathed to us by our ancestors, again modified for the needs of a new age, has been found once more, as of old, the best way to secure government by the people, freedom for the individual, the ordered strength of the State and the rule of law over governors and governed alike.

The complex forms and balanced spirit of our Constitution were not the discovery of a single era, still less of a single party or of a single person. They are the slow accretion of centuries, the outcome of patience, tradition, and experience, constantly finding channels old and new for the impulse towards liberty, justice and social improvement inherent in our people down the ages.

THE GREAT PERIL

When my Grandmother, Queen Victoria, of illustrious memory, rejoiced with her people on the occasion of her two Jubilees, she gave thanks for a long period of unbroken prosperity. Such periods cannot always recur. In looking back over the 25 years of my reign, the thankfulness that I feel to-day is chiefly for escape from danger greater than ever before threatened our land. I can never forget how the peril from without at once united all the parties, classes, Governments, and races of the Empire: men and women played their parts; the ranks were closed and, in the issue, strength upheld the free. Let us not in this hour of thanksgiving fail to remember those who gave their lives, or who live now maimed or blinded, that we might continue to enjoy the blessings of life.

Through later years our path has led uphill. In the aftermath of war, in a world exhausted by

THE RAINFALL

Increase In The Water Supply

The total rainfall for the six days ended at midnight on Saturday is nearly three times that of the corresponding period last year, being 6,570 inches, as compared with 2,180 inches. The average daily rainfall for July, calculated over a period of 50 years, is 0.552 inches. The average daily rainfall for July to date this year is 1.027 inches.

The heaviest rainfall for a single day this month was recorded on Wednesday when 2,580 inches fell. This figure, however, is not surprisingly high when one considers the record rainfall for one day, 21,025 inches recorded on July 19, 1926, when the Colony was struck by one of the worst typhoons in its history.

Beginning with last Sunday, the daily rainfall for this week has been 0.475 ins.; 0.595 ins.; 2.580 ins.; 1.740 ins.; 0.025 ins.; and 1.155 ins.—a total of 6,570 inches.

For the same period last year a total of 0.820 ins. with a daily average of 0.138 ins. was recorded.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

Nanyang Chinese Association

At a General Meeting held at its room on the 7th floor of the China Building last Friday night, The Nanyang Chinese Association, an Association recently formed by Chinese born in the Straits Settlements, Malaya, Dutch East Indies, Borneo, etc., elected the following office bearers for the year 1935-1936:—

President, Mr. U. Tat Chee; Vice-President, Mr. Wee Tong Lee; Hon. Secretary, Mr. S. B. Tan; Hon. Treasurer, Mr. S. C. Chang; Hon. Adviser, Mr. R. C. H. Lim; Hon. Auditor, Mr. Chan Hing Meng; and Members of Committee, Messrs. M. S. Phoon, Fred S. Tann, K. S. Yee, S. L. Shum and C. S. Siow.

LOCAL WEDDING

Mr. Lee Mun Kit, son of Mr. Lee Hin Pow of No. 23 Sing Woo Road, Hong Kong was married on Saturday at the Registry Office, Supreme Court, to Miss Lau Pei Ling, the daughter of Mr. Lau In, of No. 36 Lockhart Road, first floor. The ceremony was witnessed by Mr. Mok Chi Fung and Mr. Lee Shing Hin.

The bridegroom is a clerk in the employ of Messrs Leo d'Almada & Co., Solicitors.

Its ordeals and impoverished by its destruction, we set ourselves to resume our normal ways, to recreate the structure of our industry and commerce, and to respond to the urgent desire to improve the conditions of life. We were treading unfamiliar and broken ground; for there had been far-reaching changes, especially in economic conditions. Everywhere a feeling of uncertainty and lack of confidence hung like a shadow over human endeavour. But we have made headway by the earnest good will, prudence, and stability of my people, and to-day the country has attained to a measure of industrial success which gives it confidence in the future.

FELLOWSHIP

I am very conscious that these years have brought hardship and often disappointment, and I have been moved with profound admiration for the great-heartedness of my people, and for the steadfast fortitude and unbending will to overcome, which they have ever shown in their anxieties. I sympathize deeply with those who have endured the sadness and burden of unemployment. It is a source of comfort to me to feel that from these times of trial there has grown up throughout our community a stronger feeling of fellowship, one with another.

I have been blessed in all my work in having beside me my dear wife, of whom you have spoken so kindly. I give thanks to Almighty God, who has thus far sustained me and my people, and I say that we may continue to pursue the cause of freedom and progress in a spirit of peace, tolerance, and understanding.

PREPARE TO STABILISE

The fact that the Roosevelt Administration really wants to see world currencies stabilised—that is made interchangeable with gold at a fixed rate—is revealed by the numerous trial balloons sent up in Washington, but the uncertainty of the American attitude lay in Mr. Morgenthau's recent warning. It will be recalled that in a radio talk he said that the United States would impose no obstacles in the path of currency stabilisation. Some people saw in the speech of the Secretary of the Treasury a serious bid to the world to unite in setting the world's currency house in order and such a view is now borne out by the news of Washington's continued activity to this end. No one can doubt that the impediments in the path of currency stabilisation are immense and practically every country has thrown up a jungle of restrictions on its borders. There is no doubt that the most formidable is the nationalism with which each views its currency exchange rates, for it seems to be the fashion to see in an artificially low exchange rate a great competitive advantage. As an instance, if an English article worth a pound in England is suddenly changed in dollar value from $3 to $5, it stands to reason that it is harder to sell that article in the United States. That alone helps to frustrate foreign competition even more effectively than tariffs.

This cheapening of an exchange rate is just as much favoured for impeding exports as it is for blocking imports for an article which was selling at a dollar in the United States when the dollar was worth six shillings is easier to sell in Britain when the rate of exchange is four shillings. The trouble is that the matter is not so simple as all that, for it must be realised that the acquiescence of the other party is an absolute necessity before such an advantage may be established and it is more than unlikely that this other party would be content to sit idly by and do nothing at all in the matter.

It is only reasonable to agree that all countries cannot undervalue their currencies in terms of each other. Competitive devaluation is an absurdity for when one country cuts its rate, the other country, at whose expense this cut is made, will immediately follow suit, and then there will be no end to all this cutting and re-cutting. All countries, however, could undervalue their currencies in terms of gold, and if France and its monetary allies decide to give up trying to "save" their currencies, it is more than probable that this is what will happen in the course of the next few months. Then the time will be mature to re-establish a currency link on a new basis. While the readiness to confer on ways and means to attain this end would be a step in the right direction, it would nevertheless be doubtful whether it would completely expunge this new fangled monetary nationalism. This will probably be one of the chief stumbling blocks to agreement for all countries will try and obtain a preferential advantage in the determination of their exchange rates. Though the subject is much too technical for the average man to follow, it will surely be obvious to him that the prerequisite of such negotiations must be the knowledge of what, in the expert's view, is a fair rate. Amid the flux and the reflux of money across international frontiers, that is a problem before which even monetary pundits quail. It can be undertaken only by a commission of experts in which the nations have confidence and the sooner such a commission settles down to its labours, the better it will be for

TRAGIC DEATH
IN KOWLOON

Mr. G. E. Roylance

A tragedy occurred in Kowloon early yesterday afternoon, when Sanitary Inspector George Edward Roylance was found dead at his residence No. 25 Kimberley Road, first floor from the effects of lysol poisoning.

News of his sudden demise will come as a great shock to his large circle of friends, who had every reason to believe that he was enjoying the best of health. Deceased attended to his business as usual on Saturday, and gave no indication whatsoever that anything was amiss.

After the tragic discovery at 1.30 o'clock in the afternoon, the Police were at once communicated with and Mr. Thompson, Assistant Superintendent of Police, Kowloon together with D.I.S. Stimson and Sgt. Davis were soon on the scene. Life, however, was found to be extinct.

Deceased leaves a wife, and three children in the Colony, to whom the greatest sympathy will be extended in their sad bereavement.

Deceased who was an Associate of the Royal Sanitary Institute, was born on December 17, 1882. He was appointed a Second Class Sanitary Inspector on March 1, 1915, being promoted to First Class Sanitary Inspector on February 1, 1925.

Mr. Roylance was a keen lawn bowls player and took part regularly in the League tournaments.

CAUSEWAY BAY
ACCIDENT

Child Knocked Down
By Car

An accident which resulted in the admittance of a young Chinese girl to hospital was reported to the police yesterday.

It appears that while Mr. J. Gardiner of the Harbour View Hotel was driving private car No. 3374 along Causeway Bay Road in a westerly direction at about 4.50 p.m. yesterday, a young Chinese girl named Kwok Tai Kam, aged 9 years, suddenly darted across the road near Bay View Mansions from right to left and before Mr. Gardiner could do anything despite the sudden application of the brakes and swerving to the left the unfortunate child was knocked down by the bumper and right mudguard of the car.

When picked up the child was suffering from multiple injuries and was bleeding. Mr. Gardiner had the child removed and attended to first at the French Hospital which is close by the scene of the accident and later she was transferred to the Government Civil Hospital.

The car was damaged in the radiator and bumpers and also the footboard due to coming in contact with the railings nearby when swerving to avoid hitting the child.

all concerned. At Basel there is an organisation in the Bank of International Settlements which has more relevant data at its disposal than even the central banks, and for that reason it would be a good idea if it were asked to nominate a committee of exchange experts with such academic reputations that favouritism would be out of the question. This committee could constitute itself into a court and after whatever evidence it requires has been taken, it could deliver a confidential or public report, whichever procedure it deems most suitable and convenient. As the governments are deferring the initiative to anybody but themselves, the appointment of such a committee may start the ball rolling and there is no denying that some action is long overdue.

No new conference should be held without such experts' report. For the first time in history the determination of exchange rates has assumed a "political" aspect and if diplomats go into conference again without the slightest preparation, then indeed they will once more stumble in the darkness, prey only to their own prejudices and if there is one thing that an impartial report would do, it is to keep all prejudices in bounds.

STRANGE CASE
IN A FLAT

European Removed
To Hospital

The police are still investigating the case of a European named Krikinsky residing at No. 7 Middle Row, ground floor, Kowloon, who was admitted to the Kowloon Hospital yesterday evening suffering from a damaged hand.

The man was at home at about 7 o'clock yesterday evening when some inmates saw him with a revolver in his hand. They managed to wrench the weapon from him but not before a shot was fired which at first gave rise to the theory of attempted suicide. He immediately became violent and started to smash the furniture in the room.

When aid arrived the whole room was in a disordered condition with broken articles littering the floor. With the help of the police he was forcibly removed from the house in an ambulance to the Kowloon Hospital where it was stated that the man is either subject to hallucinations or is suffering from an unstable mind.

It is understood that Krikinsky was married recently and is in the employ of the China Light and Power Co., Ltd.

Vice-Admiral Chan Chak, head of the Naval Department of the Military Council in Nanking, returned a formal call made by Commodore C. G. It is understood the "Hai Chi" and "Hai Shen" will return to the North, under the Command of Vice-Admiral Chan Chak, who arrived only last Thursday in the Colony from Shanghai, under instructions of the Central Government, expressly for this purpose.

The final night fete of the Victoria Recreation Club will be held next Saturday, when a very interesting programme of events will be swum off. The decision to make this the final fete of the season, was reached because of the forthcoming Interport against Shanghai, which will not give time for any other gala to be staged.

If Gossip We Must

The Relief Party At Work After The Earthquake At Quetta.

(BY WIRELESS)

Although it has brought a welcome replenishment to our water supply, the rain that we had during the whole of the last week completely washed out everything—sport and all—but it did not in any way dampen the spirit in which our American friends celebrated their National Independence Day on Thursday when an "At Home" was held in the American Club.

The Acting Consul General, Mr. Gourley, in the absence of Consul General Hoover, proposed the toast of The King and our popular Chief Justice, Sir Atholl MacGregor, in reply, gave the toast of the President of the United States.

The club room was very tastefully decorated, the Union Jack and the Stars and Stripes being in the places of honour. Our American friends have a happy way of making each and every individual feel comfortable the moment he (or she) enters the Club and on the "Glorious Fourth" their hospitality was even more lavish than ever.

There were so many people there that I can hardly remember all the names, I was so busy talking to first one then another so that even before I realised it my escort came up and told me that it was "time to go for some lunch."

REPULSE BAY

Although it was raining cats and dogs earlier in the day on Saturday, the weather improved in the afternoon so I went out to Repulse Bay to see what hardy souls were there to brave the fury of the sea, but alas! there were only a few people to be seen. "Big Wave Bay" would have been a more appropriate name for this popular resort on Saturday for actually the waves were a few feet high and it was good fun swimming out to be carried in again by one of the "bigger fellows."

One very keen paddler tried to set his tiny canoe out several times but the small craft capsize each time and he finally gave it up as a bad job. Mr. H. T. Buxton appeared to be having a great time while Mr. C. E. R. Sanderson seemed to enjoy his swim out to the raft. Mr. J. W. Franks was there too so were Mr. and Mrs. Alec Potts and "Peterkin." I wonder who the lady was who enjoyed herself so much throwing a tennis ball about Mr. Choa Po-mih brought his family and I also saw Mr. E. C. Fredericks strolling along the beach while there was a gentleman in one of the sheds demonstrating an unbreakable tumbler. An extremely useful article for a picnic party!

CHINESE FILM STAR

In the course of the week Hong Kong Chinese cinema fans had an opportunity of entertaining Miss Butterfly Wu, the queen of the Chinese film industry and at the tea party given in her honour at the Hong Kong Hotel, I had an opportunity of getting a close-up of this charming personality.

I was very much impressed by her and could not resist comparing her with other screen personalities I have met. Miss Wu is a very unassuming individual who frankly admits that the Chinese film industry is in its infancy and that there is much to be learnt before they can hope to compete with Hollywood or Estree.

AT THE HOTEL

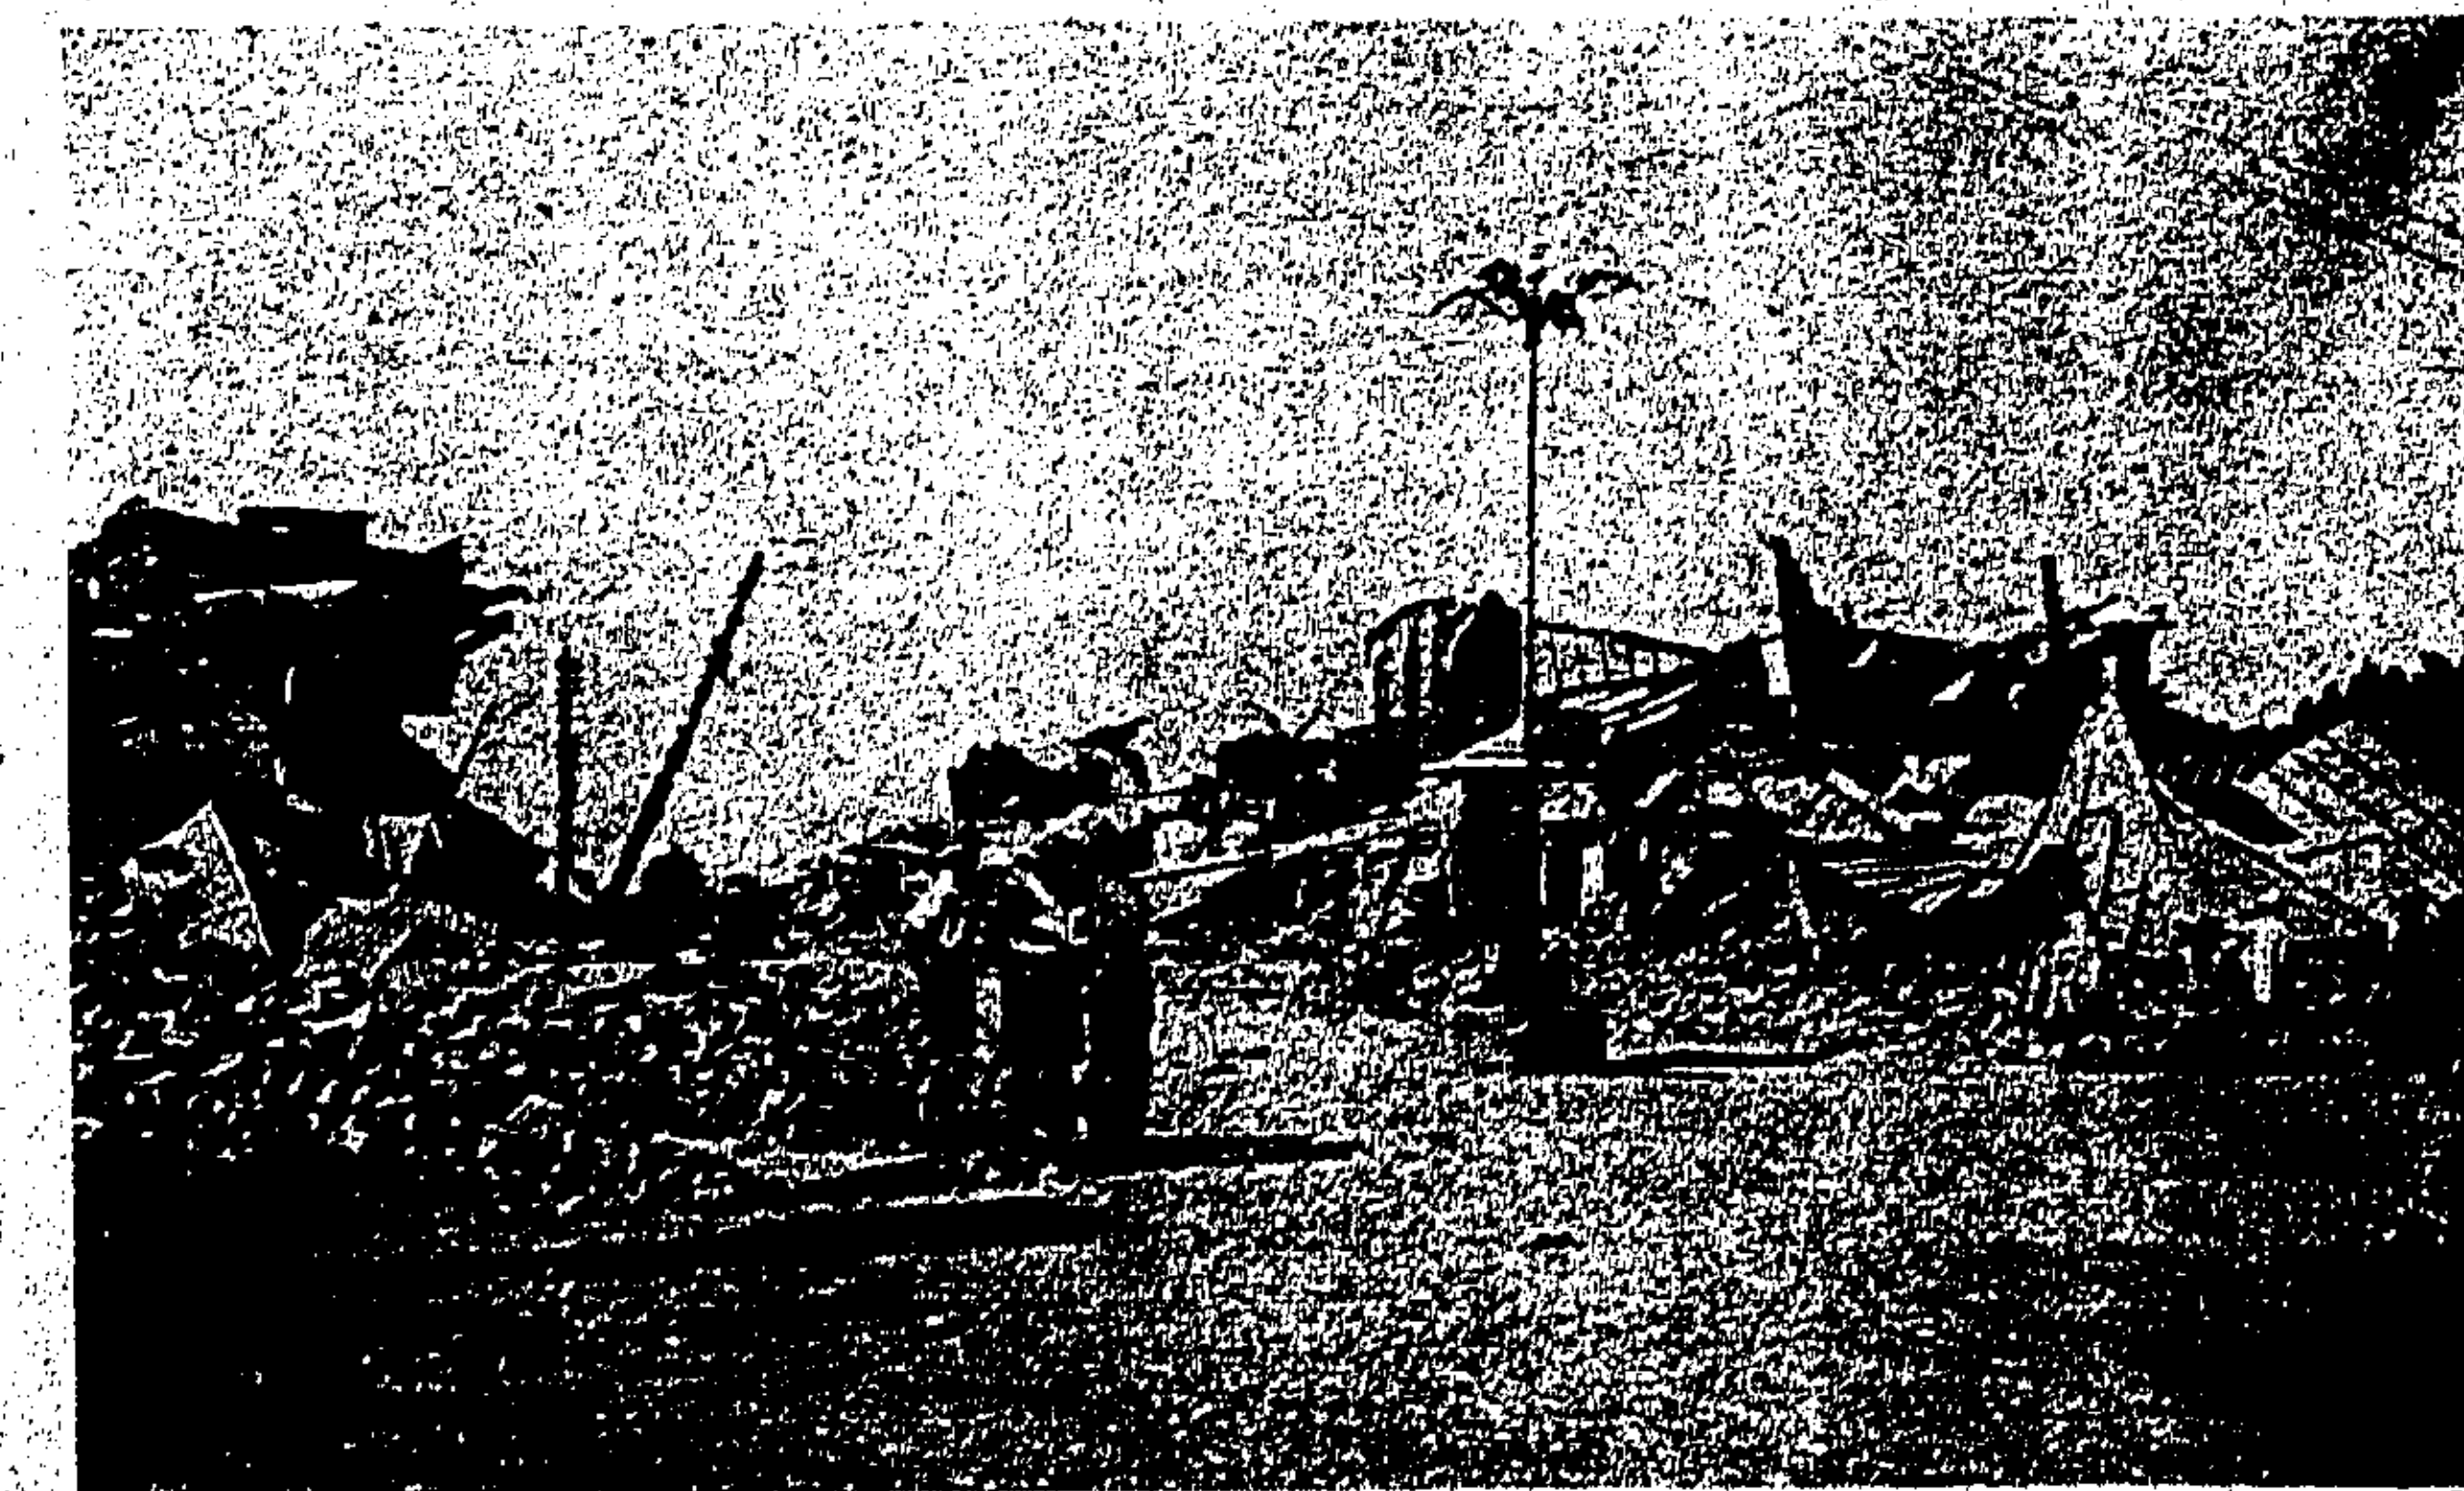

There was a very happy gathering at the Hong Kong Hotel on Saturday night and everybody had a great time. The band, as usual, were in fine form and that alone contributed largely to the evening's fun.

I noticed Mr. A. L. Sullivan (of tennis and badminton fame) with two very charming ladies while Mr. Butterfield had Mr. and Mrs. Begdon in his party, and Mr. Pote-Hunt went along with the pretty Shimmer sisters. Although it was somewhat on the warm side, the people did not seem to mind it at all. This was in no small measure due to the way the management looked after the guests.

COCKTAIL PARTY

On Monday the East Lanes held a cocktail party and all who attended voted it a "jolly good show." The Fives and Drums played the Retreat and Col. Marsh and officers made ideal hosts. I saw Dr. and Mrs. Smalley (and also the small Smalleys) while a certain gentleman sang (with much success) that popular ditty, "Show Me The Way To Go Home" in Cantonese.

Quetta, A City Of Ruins.

A monkey belonging to Mr. Bird of the Talkoo Dockyard, was sent to Kennedy Town for observation after having bitten Miss Stalker. The victim was treated at the Government Civil Hospital.

The Reverend Father Maltravers reports that some person stole an alms box from St. Theresa's Church between 9 p.m. on Thursday and 5 a.m. on Friday. The box is valued at 40 cents, but it is not known what amount of money it contained.

Invitations have been issued to the opening of the Repulse Bay

Lido next Friday at 6.30 p.m. The opening ceremony is to be performed by Lady Southern, wife of the Officer Administering the Government.

For the next four months, while Flagstaff House is undergoing repairs, His Excellency Major-General O. C. Borrett, G.O.C. China Command, will be staying with Colonel Logan at Shek-O (Telephone No. 27705, Extension 4). The General's A.D.C., Lt. W. S. A. Clough-Taylor, may be found at the Hong Kong Club or Telephone No. Military 60. The visitors book will be at Flagstaff House guard room as usual.

WILD BULL PROWLING ABOUT

The public is warned that there is a wild bull amok on the Pok-tum Road, which is stated to be a very vicious animal. The beast in question broke loose from the Kennedy Town slaughter house yesterday, and has at the time of going to press not been traced. It is believed to be on the Pok-tum Road, and a sharp look-out is being kept by the authorities.

PREPARE TO STABILISE

The fact that the Roosevelt Administration really wants to see world currencies stabilised—that is made interchangeable with gold at a fixed rate—is revealed by the numerous trial balloons sent up in Washington, but the uncertainty of the American attitude lay in Mr. Morgenthau's recent wariness. It will be recalled that in a radio talk he said that the United States would impose no obstacles in the path of currency stabilisation. Some people saw in the speech of the Secretary of the Treasury a serious bid to the world to unite in setting the world's currency house in order and such a view is now borne out by the news of Washington's continued activity to this end. No one can doubt that the impediments in the path of currency stabilisation are immense and practically every country has thrown up a jungle of restrictions on its borders. There is no doubt that the most formidable is the nationalism with which each views its currency exchange rates, for it seems to be the fashion to see in an artificially low exchange rate a great competitive advantage. As an instance, if an English article worth a pound in England is suddenly changed in dollar value from $3 to $5, it stands to reason that it is harder to sell that article in the United States. That alone helps to frustrate foreign competition even more effectively than tariffs. This cheapening of an exchange rate is just as much favoured for impeding exports as it is for blocking imports for an article, which was selling at a dollar in the United States when the dollar was worth six shillings is easier to sell in Britain when the rate of exchange is four shillings. The trouble is that the matter is not so simple as all that, for it must be realised that the acquiescence of the other party is an absolute necessity before such an advantage may be established, and it is more than unlikely that this other party would be content to sit idly by and do nothing at all in the matter.

It is only reasonable to agree that all countries cannot under value their currencies in terms of each other. Competitive devaluation is an absurdity for when one country cuts its rate, the other country, at whose expense this cut is made, will immediately follow suit, and then there will be no end to all this cutting and re-cutting. All countries, however, could undervalue their currencies in terms of gold, and if France and its monetary allies decide to give up trying to "save" their currencies, it is more than probable that this is what will happen in the course of the next few months. Then the time will be mature to re-establish a currency link on a new basis. While the readiness to confer on ways and means to attain this end would be a step in the right direction, it would nevertheless be doubtful whether it would completely expunge this new fangled monetary nationalism. This will probably be one of the chief stumbling blocks to agreement for all countries will try and obtain a preferential advantage in the determination of their exchange rates. Though the subject is much too technical for the average man to follow, it will surely be obvious to him that the prerequisite of such negotiations must be the knowledge of what, in the expert's view, is a fair rate. Amid the flux and the reflux of money across international frontiers, that is a problem before which even monetary pundits quail. It can be undertaken only by a commission of experts in which the nations have confidence and the sooner such a commission settles down to its labours, the better it will be for

IN KOWLOON

Mr. G. E. Roylance

A tragedy occurred in Kowloon early yesterday afternoon, when Sanitary Inspector George Edward Roylance was found dead at his residence No. 25 Kimberley Road, first floor from the effects of lysol poisoning.

News of his sudden demise will come as a great shock to his large circle of friends, who had every reason to believe that he was enjoying the best of health. Deceased attended to his business as usual on Saturday, and gave no indication whatsoever that anything was amiss.

After the tragic discovery at 1.30 o'clock in the afternoon, the Police were at once communicated with and Mr. Thompson, Assistant Superintendent of Police, Kowloon together with D.I.S. Stimson and Sergt. Davis were soon on the scene. Life, however, was found to be extinct.

Deceased leaves a wife, and three children in the Colony, to whom the greatest sympathy will be extended in their sad bereavement.

Deceased who was an Associate of the Royal Sanitary Institute, was born on December 17, 1882. He was appointed a Second Class Sanitary Inspector on March 1, 1915, being promoted to First Class Sanitary Inspector on February 1, 1925.

Mr. Roylance was a keen lawn bowls player and took part regularly in the League tournaments.

CAUSEWAY BAY
ACCIDENT

Child Knocked Down
By Car

An accident which resulted in the admittance of a young Chinese girl to hospital was reported to the police yesterday.

It appears that while Mr. J. Gardiner of the Harbour View Hotel was driving private car No. 3374 along Causeway Bay Road in a westerly direction at about 4.50 p.m. yesterday, a young Chinese girl named Kwok Tai-Kam, aged 9 years, suddenly darted across the road near Bay View Mansions from right to left and before Mr. Gardiner could do anything despite the sudden application of the brakes and swerving to the left the unfortunate child was knocked down by the bumper and right mudguard of the car.

When picked up the child was suffering from multiple injuries and was bleeding. Mr. Gardiner had the child removed and attended to first at the French Hospital which is close by the scene of the accident and later she was transferred to the Government Civil Hospital.

The car was damaged in the radiator and bumpers and also the footboard due to coming in contact with the railings nearby when swerving to avoid hitting the child.

all concerned. At Basel there is an organisation in the Bank of International Settlements which has more relevant data at its disposal than even the central banks, and for that reason it would be a good idea if it were asked to nominate a committee of exchange experts with such academic reputations that favouritism would be out of the question. This committee could constitute itself into a court and after whatever evidence it requires, has been taken, it could deliver a confidential or public report, whichever procedure it deems most suitable and convenient. As the governments are deferring the initiative to anybody but themselves, the appointment of such a committee may start the ball rolling and there is no denying that some action is long overdue.

No new conference should be held without such experts' report. For the first time in history the determination of exchange rates has assumed a "political" aspect and if diplomats go into conference again without the slightest preparation, then indeed they will once more stumble in the darkness, prey only to their own prejudices and if there is one thing that an impartial report would do, it is to keep all prejudices in bounds.

STRANGE CASE
IN A FLAT

European Removed
To Hospital

The police are still investigating the case of a European named Krikinsky residing at No. 7 Middle Row, ground floor, Kowloon, who was admitted to the Kowloon Hospital yesterday evening suffering from a damaged hand.

The man was at home at about 7 o'clock yesterday evening when some inmates saw him with a revolver in his hand. They managed to wrench the weapon from him but not before a shot was fired which at first gave rise to the theory of attempted suicide. He immediately became violent and started to smash the furniture in the room.

When arrived the whole room was in a disordered condition with broken articles littering the floor. With the help of the police he was forcibly removed from the house in an ambulance to the Kowloon Hospital where it was stated that the man is either subject to hallucinations or is suffering from an unstable mind.

It is understood that Krikinsky was married recently and is in the employ of the China Light and Power Co., Ltd.

NEWS SUMMARY

Rain spoiled the tennis fixtures last week and to-morrow there are four games in the "A" Division, some of which ought to be very closely contested. If I.R.C. should split the combination of the Runjahn cousins their chances against the K.C.C. are bright.

CHALLENGE TO MAJOR ATTLEE

Italian Captain Persists In Fighting A Duel

SEQUEL TO HOUSE OF COMMONS OBSERVATIONS

London, July 7.

Major Attlee, deputy leader of the Labour Party in the House of Commons, has been challenged to a duel by the Italian Captain Fanelli, editor of the defunct "Secolo Fascisti."

Captain Fanelli, who is ready to meet Major Attlee in a neutral country with any weapon, has objected to the latter's observations during the recent debate in the House of Commons on the Italo-Abyssinian dispute.

Major Attlee has declined the challenge, saying that duelling is a barbarous and obsolete method of liquidating a quarrel. Captain Fanelli is not satisfied with this statement and persists in his challenge.

Interviewed by Reuter regarding the challenge to a duel, Major Attlee remarked that replying to Captain Fanelli he pointed out that the latter had presumed to ordain what he considered should be the limits of parliamentary discussions: the total absence of free speech in Italy excused Captain Fanelli from the knowledge as to what is admissible in a British debate.—Reuter.

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press")

(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, July 7, 7:30 p.m.)

Rome, July 7.

America's attitude to the Italo-Abyssinian conflict is received here with satisfaction, although it is rather evasive. The satisfaction felt, however, lies in the fact that the United States attitude is markedly different from that of England.

The "Tribuna" in a sarcastically worded leader, speaks of England's "manoeuvre" with the League of Nations. The paper goes on to state that contrary to all traditions of British policy of non-intervention, the same British Government which never proposed any sanctions against Germany or Japan, nor any prohibition of arms in the Gran Chaco war, is now suddenly anxious to apply sanctions to Italy before any violations of any pact have been established and while Italy is still a member of the League of Nations.

Paris correspondents of all the Italian papers unanimously point out the hopelessness of the British Government's attempt to induce France to exert pressure on Italy in the Abyssinian question.—Transocean Kuo Min.

A FIERY SPEECH

Rome, July 6.

Signor Mussolini, who flew on Saturday to Salerno in order to review the militia division "January the Third" which will leave for East Africa on Sunday, had an exciting experience when his plane was struck by lightning.

Fortunately no one was hurt and the machine was not damaged although the radio operator fainted when the lightning hit the antenna three feet away from him.

After his arrival at Salerno, Il Duce in addressing the troops delivered one of his fiery speeches, saying "Italy, in the midst of grave conflict was determined to see it through. Italian soldiers had always defeated coloured opponents, the battle at Adwa where 4,000 Italians were opposed by 100,000 Abyssinians being the sole exception. The Italian Government at that time cared less for its soldiers than for its Parliamentarians and that was the reason why so much heroism was proved in vain. "To-day all Italy was behind her sons in East Africa who all prefer a heroic life to a purposeless existence. The Italians are protagonists of great historic development and the entire world must recognise the value of the Fascist spirit."

The speech was received with frenzied applause by the Black Shirts.—Transocean Kuo Min.

MUSSOLINI'S SONS

Rome, July 6.

Signor Mussolini's two sons, Vittorio and Bruno, aged 18 and 17 respectively have volunteered for service with the Italian Air Force in East Africa.

The application has been accepted by the Air Ministry which, of course, was under the personal direction of Mussolini who combines the post of Air Minister with various other most important cabinet positions.

The action of Il Duce's two sons, who only recently passed the flying examination, Bruno being Italy's youngest pilot, is hailed all over Italy as a shining example for the whole Italian youth.—Transocean Kuo Min.

SUEZ CANAL CLOSING

London, July 5.

It is understood that the legal aspect of the question of the closing of the Suez Canal as a measure of pressure against Italy has been examined by international jurists at Geneva. It was held that the statutes of the Suez Canal Company would not allow the canal to be closed to any belligerent nation; but under Article XX of the League of Nations Covenant members of the League severally agreed that all obligations inconsistent with the terms of the Covenant were automatically abrogated.

It was therefore recognised that if the League Council declared an embargo upon arms to Somaliland and Eritrea it would be within the competence of that body to order the examination of all ships passing through the canal.

Further, it would be possible to seize all cargo coming within the scope of the embargo.

M. Joseph Avenol, Secretary-General of the League of Nations, will be visiting London next week, possibly to discuss the question with the British authorities. The question whether the Council would vote on such an embargo is very problematical.—Reuter.

PLEA REJECTED

Washington, July 5.

The United States has, in effect, rejected the plea by the Emperor of Ethiopia that America should invoke the Kellogg Pact in connection with the dispute with Italy.

A Note promptly replying to the appeal says the United States is giving attention to the controversy and America is loth to believe that Italy or Ethiopia will seek a settlement except by pacific means or permit a situation to arise inconsistent with the commitments of the Pact.

The reply, however, does not mention possible action by the United States.—Reuter.

GARIBALDI BATTALION OF RED SHIRTS

General Giuseppe Garibaldi, descendant of the famous leader of Red Shirts known as Garibaldi's Thousand, is seeking Signor Mussolini's consent to form a Red Shirt battalion to serve in the Abyssinian expedition.—Reuter.

AMERICAN CITIZENS IN ABYSSINIA

Washington, July 6.

The State Department has revealed that the Charge d'Affaires at Addis Ababa has been authorised to advise 125 United States citizens, mostly missionaries, in Abyssinia to leave the country or take whatever action he deemed necessary to ensure their safety.—Reuter.

London, July 6.—The Secretary General of League of Nations, M. Joseph Avenol, will arrive in London on Tuesday on one of his periodical visits. During his stay he will meet for the first time, the new Foreign Secretary, Sir Samuel Hoare, and will also discuss League questions with Mr. Anthony Eden, Minister for League Affairs.—British Wireless

Manoeuvres By Banks

New York, July 6.

Senator Thomas commenting on the recent drop in the silver price contended that the banks with previous knowledge when the Treasury would buy or sell were able to profit either on upward or downward turn in price. The Oklahoma man emphasised that he did not accuse either Mr. Henry Morgenthau or the banks of duplicity, but he insisted that the "banks will be banks" when the opportunity to make a profit arises.

He added that if the purchasing accelerated the price, $1.29 an ounce would be reached long before the United States reached the prescribed quota of three thousand million dollars worth of monetary silver and contended that armed with control in silver price and a large say in determining the price of gold, the United States should enter an international conference for stabilisation of gold and silver in a bimetallic system.—Reuter.

PETITION TO PRESIDENT

Washington, July 6.

Senator Thomas stated that forty Senators, Democrats and Republicans, had already signed a petition which has been got up by a group of silver Senators to be sent to President Roosevelt asking him to accelerate the United States silver purchasing programme in view of the increasing silver price. Senator Thomas said that he hoped to secure forty-nine signatures or the majority of the Senate before submitting the petition. "The President now has full power to raise the price of silver, but we feel that the programme has not been carried out, energetically enough as the paramount issue before the nation is silver," said Senator Thomas.—Reuter.

BRITAIN'S AIR FORCE HOLDS DISPLAY

Over Three Hundred Machines Take Part

ROYAL FAMILY AT MILDENHALL

London, June 6.

In glorious weather His Majesty the King reviewed the Air Force at Mildenhall, Suffolk, this morning. Thirty-eight squadrons, totalling 350 machines, were arrayed in semicircular formation eight rows deep, comprising all types, from giant bombers to small fighters with a speed of 230 miles an hour. Hundreds of motorists from all parts of the country arrived at Mildenhall last evening and spent a merry evening with music and dancing. They slept in their cars and breakfasted in the morning sunshine.

Later vast crowds arriving in cars, buses, motor-coaches, on cycle, and on foot, filled the public enclosures, where hundreds of school-children carrying miniature Union Jacks were given special seats. There was a special enclosure for the friends and relatives of serving officers.

CHEERING VILLAGERS

The Prince of Wales flew from Fort Bevedere to Newmarket and joined the King. The Duke of York and Sir Philip Cunliffe-Lister, Minister for Air, motored through a line of cheering villagers to Mildenhall, where the King, wearing the uniform of an Air Marshal, inspected a Guard of Honour of the Air Force, while the Air Force band played the National Anthem.

His Majesty then motored along five miles of aircraft, stopping occasionally to inspect special types of machines.

Thereafter the royal party motored to Duxford aerodrome, where they joined the Queen and the Duchess of York on a dais decorated with blue, silver and maroon, amid the cheers of 100,000 people gathered there, and witnessed the fly-past of 20 squadrons from Mildenhall.

MIGHTIEST SPECTACLE

The Air Force Review culminated in the mightiest air spectacle ever seen in Britain when over 200 planes, including giant bombers and swift fighters flew past their Majesties.

The machines changed formation with the precision of the Guardsmen and huge crowds stood silent, awed at the spectacle.

At the conclusion their Majesties drove from the flying ground to the accompaniment of the National Anthem and enthusiastic cheers.—Reuter.

The review took the double form of inspection at Mildenhall aerodrome of about 350 aircraft and their personnel, drawn from 40 squadrons, and a fly past at Duxford aerodrome. The squadrons at Mildenhall constituted the largest number ever assembled at any aerodrome in Britain.

YANGTZE FLOOD DANGER

Nanking, July 6.

The Yangtze River Commission is forming three flood prevention districts with headquarters at Hankow, Kiangsi, and Anking. Mr. Liu Cheng Chau, Chairman of the Anhui Government, is requesting steamers not to go near the banks for fear that the dykes may be damaged.

The National Economic Council, Secretary-General Mr. Chin Fen, accompanied by high conservancy officials and engineers, is leaving to-morrow on a tour of the Yangtze cities to inspect the flood prevention work. The itinerary includes Wuhu, Anking, Kiangsi, Hankow, and Ichang.

The continued rise of the Yangtze at Ichang, surpassing the 1931 record, is causing not a little anxiety, because it is feared that a further rise of the middle and lower streams will follow in the next few days.

The water mark at Hankow at 7 p.m. was 47.6. The situation here is unchanged and there is still no cause for serious alarm.—Reuter.

HANKOW PRECAUTIONS

Hankow, July 7.

The overnight water level rose nearly a foot and at present it is 48.5. The water is now actually higher than the Concessions and overlapping the entire length of the bund, but still on the safe side of the concrete wall. Leading firms are taking all precautions by removing the contents of godowns from the ground floor to the second storey.

On the other side of Hankow's main dyke which was formerly the popular paper hunting country there is at present a huge inland sea stretching for miles on which sampans and other Chinese craft are sailing, while elsewhere many farmsteads are semi-submerged. The Hankow Herald's correspondent from Changshu reports that many streets are flooded following the collapse of the dyke to the north of the city and inhabitants waist deep in water rescuing furniture and belongings. While the damage is estimated at thousands of dollars.—Reuter.

PEIPING REVOLT

Shanghai, July 6.

Chinese reports state that Fui Chien Wu, leader of the rebels who attacked Peiping on June 28, arrived in Dairen last Thursday.—Reuter.

RANDIT FORCE NEAR MING TOMBS

Peiping, July 7.

The Military Council has despatched troops to suppress a bandit force in the neighbourhood of the Ming Tombs, 25 miles northward of Peiping. The news of their approach has not caused any perturbation as it is regarded merely as one of the periodic raids made in the outlying parts of the Peiping area by bandits from the mountain fastnesses in the demilitarised zone.

As the result of operations by the Special Police, and local militia the bandits fled outside the Great Wall into Yen-ching.—Reuter.

THREAT TO STORM PEIPING

Shanghai, July 7.

Two thousand men, remnants of the band which attacked Peiping last week are gathered at Changshingien, 25 miles north-west of the city according to foreign reports in Shanghai. Pamphlets have been distributed announcing the intention to storm Peiping, but so far there is no news that the attack has commenced.

The Military Council has massed troops on the north suburbs of the city.—Reuter.

HAPSBURG MONARCHY RESTORATION

Little Entente Views

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press")

(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, July 7, 7:30 p.m.)

Paris, July 7.

That the French Government has been officially informed of the decision taken by the Council of the Little Entente to regard any attempts at the restoration of the Hapsburg dynasty as "casus belli" is stated by the "Journal des Debats," which adds that Rumanian Foreign Minister, Titulescu certainly conveyed similar information to the British Government during his stay in London.

The paper emphasises the necessity for French and British statesmen to take due account of this attitude of the Little Entente, and goes on to point out that France is closely linked up with the latter, adding significantly that the worst policy would be that of sacrificing old and tried friends to former political adversaries.—Transocean Kuo Min.

ROSENBERG'S VISIT

Bishop Of Muenster Objects

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press")

(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, July 7, 7:30 p.m.)

Berlin, July 7.

An acute controversy has broken out between the Bishop of Muenster and Alfred Rosenberg. A sharp protest by the former is entered against Rosenberg's visit to the City of Muenster, where the latter delivered a speech at the National Socialist party meeting on Saturday evening.

In the course of his speech, Rosenberg read extracts from a letter addressed by the Bishop to the President of the province of Westphalia, in which the Bishop stated that the announcement of Rosenberg's intention to visit Muenster had "created strong feeling among the Christian population" and requesting the President to forbid Rosenberg to deliver a public speech there. The Bishop further asked the President to inform him whether his request had been granted since in the event of refusal, the Bishop would be compelled to consider whether or not he should enjoin his flock "to accept this provocation calmly."

Replying to these attacks Rosenberg severely criticised the Bishop's attitude, which he said was dictated solely by intolerance. National Socialism, according to Rosenberg, by combating Bolshevism had done more for Christianity in Germany than all the other former parties put together.

Referring to all the reports current ahead, concerning the alleged religious persecution in Germany, Rosenberg declared "the fact that the Bishop could write such letters against the Reich leader of the movement representing Germany, without being arrested, shows how tolerant the National Socialist State is towards the representative of the Christian Church."—Transocean Kuo Min.

THE SOVIET ACCEPTS

Japan's Proposals

Tokyo, July 5.

M. Yureneff, the Russian Ambassador, has informed Mr. K. Hirota, the Foreign Minister, that the Soviet Union accepts Japan's proposal for the organisation of a joint Soviet-Manchukuo-Japanese Frontier Commission in an endeavour to terminate the present irritation caused by frequent frontier incidents.

It is learned that the details of the organisation will soon be worked out.—Reuter.

TROOPS RUSHED

Hankow, July 5.

A party of a hundred Japanese troops is being rushed to the border region in Jehol, following a report that a detachment of General Sun Chui-yuan's army attacked and looted a Manchukuo frontier post. It is stated that two guards were seriously injured during the attack.—Reuter.

ARMAMENT RACE PREVENTION

Advantage of Naval Discussions

London, July 6.

The exchange of views and information which began during the Anglo-German naval talks last month is still proceeding satisfactorily and the application of the principle of the Anglo-German agreement to the actual strength and building programmes is under discussion. Importance is attached to the Anglo-German talks as the means of preparing the ground for a general naval conference from which it is hoped will emerge an understanding whereunder each party will unilaterally declare its building programme for the next five years.

The "Times" says the result would have the advantage of eliminating surprises such as served to stimulate competition in the past when frequent new programmes or fear of them led to increased construction and it emphasises that agreement or qualitative limitation is urgently needed to replace the Washington and London agreements which have been of definite value in lowering expenditure and discouraging competition.

It is understood that details of ships already laid down by Germany and the programme for 1935-36 have been communicated to the British and French Governments.—British Wireless.

AMERICAN RYDER CUP TEAM

New York, July 7.

The American Ryder Cup golf team will be Walter Hagen, Captain Paul Runyan, Sam Parks, Olin Dutra, Kylafoom, Johnny Revolta, Henry Picard, Horton Smith, Gene Sarazen and Craigwood.

They will play against Great Britain at Ridgewood, New Jersey, on September 28 and 29.—Reuter.

AIR LINER OVERDUE

Shanghai, July 6.

Fears are entertained for an Eurasia air liner, which is 24 hours overdue at Langchow, from Siam. It carried two pilots, including a German, and seven passengers, including a representative of the Pan-Min Lama.

An aeroplane from Siam is searching for the machine.—Reuter.

FORCED DOWN

Shanghai, July 7.

The Eurasia air liner, has wireless that it has been forced down and is not damaged. The occupants are safe at Hailu, 200 miles northeast of Langchow. A searching plane was driven back to Peiping twice on account of bad weather.—Reuter.

BRITAIN WINS THE TENNIS TITLE

Perry Keeps Wimbledon Title

London, July 5. England, in the person of F. J. Perry, has won the chief championship at Wimbledon. Perry repeated his achievement of last year, marching through all competition, and winning with a burst of brilliance against one of the most capable players ever to contest a Wimbledon final, Baron von Cramm, young German champion. Perry won in straight sets, 6-2, 6-4, 6-4.

Interest now centres in the men's doubles final. The Americans, Allison and Van Ryn, former Wimbledon champions, have fought their way to the finish and will meet the great Australian pair, Crawford and Quist.

Allison and Van Ryn defeated the Englishmen, Hughes and Tuckey, in their semi-final engagement. They won after four strenuous sets, having lost the first. The match score was: 4-6, 6-4, 6-2, 6-2.

EASY WIN

Crawford and Quist won in straight sets against the youthful American team of Budge and Mako, whom some favoured for the championship. The Australians swept through the first set in eight games, but in the second were forced to play twenty-four and in the last nine. The match score was: 6-2, 13-11, 6-3.

Crawford and Quist won their match because they prevented the Americans from crowding the net. The Australians got there first and by brilliant volleying kept the Americans hugging the base-line.

In the semi-final of the mixed doubles, the Australian pair, Mr. and Mrs. Hopman, advanced at the expense of Von Cramm and Frau Sperling. They won in two sets, 6-4, 6-4.

Perry and Dorothy Round will meet Quist and Mile. Jedrejewska, who to-day beat McGrath and Miss Hartigan, in the other semi-final. In the semi-finals of the women's doubles Mme. Mathieu and Frau Sperling beat Frau Sigar Meulemeester and Miss Metaxa Howard and Miss Stammers and Miss James beat Mrs. Haylock and Mrs. Kirk.

MISS ROUND TO REST

Miss Dorothy Round, has declined to play in Britain's Wightman Cup team. She declares she wants a rest from tennis.

England's hopes of victory in the Davis Cup are somewhat lessened by the defeat of Hughes and Tuckey. It was hoped that they would be able to hold their own against any American pair, but Allison and Van Ryn, titleholders in 1929-30 were more than a match for the Englishmen. Tuckey played with much pluck and fire and his smashing was fine, but Hughes' lobs gave opportunities to the Americans who quickly seized them, killing savagely and winning many points.

If, as seems likely, England meets America in the final of the Davis Cup competition, the whole burden will once again fall upon Fred Perry. The Americans are capable of beating Austin with any one of their singles aces, and their doubles team is a good deal stronger on present form than anything England can offer in which Perry is not a member. It would seem that Perry must again be depended on for two singles victories and to help England to meet the challenge in the decisive doubles match.

A British Wireless message, explaining Dorothy Round's withdrawal from the Wightman Cup team, states that she has been for some weeks suffering from a strained leg muscle.

BRILLIANT COMEBACK

London, July 6. Mrs. Helen Wills-Moody brought a brilliant comeback to a successful culmination in the All-England Championships at Wimbledon, when she defeated her countrywoman, Miss Helen Hull Jacobs.

In the final of the Women's Singles Championship on the famous Centre Court before a packed gallery. Her success, by scores of 6-3, 3-6, 7-5, enabled her to establish a record of seven wins at Wimbledon, a feat without parallel.

Her return to championship form has been sensational, as she had only been seen in two minor tournaments. St. George's and Backenham, before participating at Wimbledon after an absence of 18 months from match play.

In the Men's Doubles final, Jack Crawford and Adrian Quist, the Australian holders of the French title, beat Wilmer L. Allison Junr. and John Van Ryn, the 1929-30 holders, by scores of 6-3, 5-7, 6-2, 5-7, 7-5, in a brilliant and spectacular battle.

The Women's Final proved unquestionably the greatest battle ever fought at Wimbledon. The closeness of the struggle is shown by the fact that the loser won 110 points, as compared with Mrs. Moody's 108.

Miss Jacobs led by 5 games to 2 in the third set, and at 5-3 held match point.

The match could aptly be described as a clash of "eggs versus strokes".

Miss Jacobs' speed on the court and her ability to return Mrs. Moody's widest shots was amazing; she probably covered 10 miles whereas Mrs. Moody stood in the middle of the baseline, driving powerfully to all parts of the court.

LURED TO NET

Miss Jacobs chopped continually while Mrs. Moody resorted to flat-racket drives. Again and again Miss Jacobs compelled her rival to advance to the net where she passed her with flashing backhand and forehand winners.

In only one respect was Miss Jacobs better in her stroke production, that being her volleying and net play.

In the first set Mrs. Moody jumped into a 3-1 lead, but Miss Jacobs levelled at 3—all after three very closely contested games, only to see Mrs. Moody go out for set in the ninth game.

In the second set the score was again 3—all, but this time Miss Jacobs snatched the lead at 4-3 with two questionable decisions against Mrs. Moody.

The score was 2-all in the third set when Miss Jacobs drew away as the result of perfect serving and volleying. Holding leads of 5-2 and 5-3, she missed a smash for match.

FIVE GAMES IN ROW

Mrs. Moody kept her head wonderfully well and after jangling at 5-all won the final rally in the 12th game, which was representative of the closeness of the whole contest by the fact that the ball passed over the net 23 times. After one deuce had been called Mrs. Moody, who had secured 5 games in a row, won her first match point to conclude a thrilling contest.

The crowd gave the players a huge ovation at the conclusion of the match, including in wholehearted cheering as is seldom heard at Wimbledon.

MEN'S DOUBLES

Allison and Van Ryn, who are considered to be the present day's greatest doubles pair in the world, were beaten by Crawford and Quist after they were at match-point (5 games to 4) in the final set.

It was a great fight and the players were loudly applauded when they left the Court.

"AGILE YOUNGSTERS"

The agile British youngsters, Kathleen Stammers and Freda James, gave Britain the second title when they beat the stone-walling tactics of Mme. Mathieu and Frau Sperling in the final of the Women's Doubles, winning in straight sets 6-1, 6-4.

BRITAIN'S THIRD WIN

Fred Perry and Dorothy Round beat Mr. and Mrs. Hopman in the

THE V.R.C.

Hold Final Gala

DATES FOR THE INTERPORT

September 18 to 21, have been suggested by the Victoria Recreation Club as possible dates for the forthcoming Interport Swimming Contest between Hong Kong and Shanghai. The V.R.C., under whose auspices it is to be held, have written to the Shanghai Amateur Swimming Association to that effect.

When word is received from the Northern port, all swimming clubs and Associations in the Colony will be notified, so that nominations from the respective bodies may be given a showing in Interport Trials that are to be staged.

A meeting will also be called to discuss further details, and a committee will then be formed, representative of all the swimming clubs, who will be entrusted with the task of selecting an Interport team.

It is proposed, if the dates suggested for the Interport are accepted by Shanghai, to hold the Colony Swimming Championships during the last week of August and to reserve the first and part of the second week of September for the Interport Trials.

FINAL GALA

Owing to the Interport being held here, the V.R.C. last swimming night fete will be held next Saturday, which should provide some very interesting competition. Invitations have been sent out to other swimming clubs to compete in certain events, the rest of the programme being devoted to the usual events for members.

Among the clubs invited to participate are the European Y.M.C.A., the Chinese Athletic Association, South China Athletic Association, Chinese Bathing Club, and the Chinese Y.M.C.A.

The following is the programme for next Saturday's night fete:

75 Yards Medley Race (Handicap) Open to boys between 12 and 16 years of age.

100 Yards Free Style, Aggregate (Handicap) Members "C" Class.

50 Yards Free Style (Open).

200 Yards Free Style Relay (Invitation).

150 Yards Free Style (Handicap), Aggregate, Members "B" Class.

Diving Exhibition (H. L. Ozorio and Ed. da Rosa).

50 Yards Free Style (Handicap) Open to boys under 12.

Water Polo, European Y.M.C.A. versus V.R.C.

Entries for the members' events close this evening and the heats will be swum off on Wednesday at 6.30 p.m.

THE Y.M.C.A.

The second monthly "Y Night" will be held next Wednesday at the European Y.M.C.A. swimming pool, and some very good sport will probably be witnessed as invitations have been extended to other clubs to participate which should provide keen competition.

The exact programme has not finally been decided upon, but will probably consist of the 50, 100, 200 Yards Free Style events, a 200-Yard Relay of either four or eight men swimming 50 or 25 yards each, and will probably wind up with a water-polo game between the "Y" and the Rest.

There will also probably be several events for the ladies, including a mixed relay and the ladies' 50 Yards aggregate handicap.

WATER-POLO FIXTURES

On Tuesday evening, the "Y" will meet the East Lancashire Regiment in a return water-polo game, when the following will represent them: J. Fowler, W. J. Wagstaff and J. Fowler, W. J. Kerr, J. Ferrett, G. H. Fowler and H. G. Lange.

final of the Mixed Doubles to register Britain's third success. The scores were: 7-5, 4-5 and 4-2. Their victory was all the more creditable as they had to play their senior final match against Quist and Jedrejewska, immediately before the final. They won by 6-1, 6-3.

LAWN BOWLS

This Week's Games

The postponed fixtures of last week's open lawn bowls games will be played off this week if the weather holds good. Several interesting ties are down for play and the most interesting to watch will perhaps be the open pairs championship between R. F. Luz and H. Beer of the C.C.C. and F. X. M. da Silva and C. G. Silva of the Recreio.

Both pairs are playing as well as ever, the Recreio pair being slightly more consistent. However Luz and his partner can always be depended upon on major occasions and this game ought to produce bowls of a high standard.

J. C. Brown a former finalist is meeting H. R. Ozorio. Although he is favoured to win the Portuguese lad will give him a good struggle.

Another past champion in the person of U. M. Omar will be on view when he meets J. V. Ramsay. Omar is playing as well as ever but Ramsay should just about be able to give him that little bit of uphill fight.

Last year's open pairs champions and runners up will also be seen in action and both pairs ought to get through. The holders may find in Medina and Cavanagh a stubborn pair to deal with.

YESTERDAY'S GAMES

In the quarter final of the open rink lawn bowls championship played on the C.C.C. green a rink from the K.C.C. skipped by A. Hyde-Lay eliminated the much fancied Indians (A. R. Dallah skip) rink by 20 shots to 12.

The game was keenly contested throughout and several players excelled.

D. M. Khan and J. W. M. Brown both rolled in some good woods while R. G. Greig and S. O. Bux were about on equal footing. The real differences were to be found in the respective No. 3 and skips where the K.C.C. men outshone the Indians especially A. Hyde-Lay who saved the situations for the K.C.C. on more than one occasion. Adal was playing as well as could be expected in the early stages but deteriorated in the last seven heads with the result that E. C. Fincher, who had been the mainstay of the K.C.C., came up with some beautiful woods.

With the K.C.C. lying 3 in the 18th, Dallah burnt that head.

The K.C.C. notched a three on the first and third heads with the Indians scoring singles until the third when they managed to get a three making the score six all.

A single for the K.C.C. on the 7th head put them one ahead of the Indians but the latter came back with another single on the very next head.

A four on the 9th head gave the K.C.C.'s rink a four shots lead which they maintained until the end. The K.C.C. never looked back and the Indians scored singles on the 10th, 13th, 15th, 17th and 19th heads, whereas the K.C.C. scored a single on the 11th head followed with a two on the next, singles on the 14th, 15th, 16th and 21st heads with a further two on the 20th head to give them victory by 20 shots to 12.

LEAGUE TENNIS

One Match In A Week!

Only one tennis game was played off last week due to the wet weather and if the present conditions keep up, there is very little prospect of further progress being made in the course of the current week.

Many tennis enthusiasts are looking forward to the clash between the U.S.R.C. and the C.R.C. in the Mixed Doubles, the result of which will have a very big bearing on the championship. So far there is no date fixed for this important fixture.

There are four "A" Division games down for decision to-morrow, the most interesting of which should be the clash between I.R.C. and the Recreio "A".

The Indians have only the Rumjahn cousins on whom to depend but the Portuguese lads have three well-balanced pairs, particularly J. Gonsalves and his partner who can always be depended upon to get at least two sets.

It would be a great experiment (and perhaps an improvement on the team) if the Indians were to break up the partnership of the Rumjahn cousins and paired them with other players. This change might result in the more even pairings of the team.

The Craigengower and K.C.C. game ought to be interesting enough to watch as both teams are of about equal strength. The K.C.C. ought to get away with the points as they have been playing quite well of late.

The H.K.C.C. should give the C.R.C. "B" a good run for their money in their encounter. Neither team is very impressive but the Chinese seem to be just a shade better than the Cricketers and ought to win.

The U.S.R.C. should account for the lowly placed Recreio "B".

TO-DAYS TENNIS CLASH

If the U. S. R. C. are to have any hopes of winning the Mixed Doubles Shield they will have to beat the K. C. C. team this afternoon on their own courts. The match will be very interesting and the U. S. R. C. will probably win by the odd set. In Goldman and Miss Hancock they have a pair which will take all three sets, but their next two pairs will have to fight all the way for a win. The K. C. RACING

The Manchester Meeting

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, June 19. The Manchester Cup, always a popular event in the North of England, was won yesterday by Sir E. Hanmer's four-year-old colt Moneybox, ridden by Nevett and trained by M. D. Peacock, writes a correspondent. He won by a length and a half from Short Run, who was another two lengths in front of Hoplite. Pharillon was fourth, and the rest nowhere. Moneybox started at 100 to 6 against Short Run at 6 to 1, and Hoplite at 8 to 1. The conditions for the race were ideal, for the afternoon was fine, the going good, and the air not too oppressive. There was quite a large attendance of visitors.

The field for the Manchester Cup was made up as expected. It is seldom that I have been told by so many people the name of the probable winner, and nobody seemed to agree, which suggests that the handicapper had done his work well. Solitaire, Short Run, Irongrey, Philip, and Bunker were all said to be invincible. The fact that Short Run represented Manton in the place of Caracol and Adept suggested that she was much fancied. There was only a short delay at the start before Captain Allison sent the field away, only Short Run losing a little ground. Soon after the start Pharillon was in front, followed by Solitaire, Knight of Monaster, and Moneybox. Before the beginning of the long sweep into the Straight was reached Short Run had taken the lead, followed by Philip and Solitaire. Moneybox was still well placed.

IRONGREY'S MISSED CHANCE

Short Run came into the Straight leading by several lengths. She has no great speed, and Weston, it would seem, was trying to make the best of his way home before something faster could get at him. Then half-way up the Straight Moneybox came on but seemed to swerve, violently. Irongrey then had a chance, but Moneybox went back to the rails and took the lead from Short Run, going on to win.

The afternoon's racing was begun with the Lodge Maiden

Plate for two-year-olds. The known form was moderate, but it seemed to me possible that the winner might be Weatherwise, for she had run well in her last race, in which a stable companion, Dent de Lion, had been second. She did not seem to be much expected to win, for she started at 8 to 1 against Ridden by Weston, she won with ease from Riverwood, with Sedgwick third. The King's filly, Nunnery, showed speed, as she had done in an earlier race, but if she is to win a race it will have to be over a very easy course. Roberta appeared to be badly away, and when put under pressure did not run on.

There was a good finish to the Bury Selling Handicap. It is often the case that bad horses provide such finishes. The field were being ridden hard a quarter of a mile from the finish. It then seemed that the winner might be Top Dog, or the Alexandra Park winner, General McArthur. Both were caught and beaten in the last few strides by Golden Crown, who was ably ridden by Dyson. Golden Crown won by a head, with a short head separating General McArthur and Top Dog. Golden Crown had run only once before this season, when fourth in a very moderate selling plate at Beverley.

A FINE RACE

The race for the Manchester Cup followed, and then came the Friday Selling Handicap. This was won by a very narrow margin by the top weight Croon, who, after a fine race, held off Grandmaster, Croon is by Coronach out of Rural Lass, and used to be trained at Beckhampton. He can still win small races, but he was not good enough to remain in that great establishment.

Black and Blue once was owned by Lord Nunburnholme, for whom he won a race at Ayr last autumn, ridden by his owner, to his great delight. The gelding was then sold to Mrs. Follett, for whom he failed as a jumper when trained by McVittie. He was then bought by Mr. Doubleday, remaining with McVittie. Yesterday he won the Brackley Welter Handicap. He was always well placed on the Stands side rails, and won nicely from Greek Abbot, with the much-fancied Vallip third. McVittie, as I have stated before in these Notes, is an able young trainer. He runs Volcanus at Ascot. He made that horse last season into one of the best of sprinters. He would seem also to have improved Black and Blue.

RAILWAYS IN CHINA

Development During Past Year

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Nanking, July 1.

During 1934, work on the Canton-Hankow railway proceeded more rapidly than was expected, and all of the uncompleted section of the line have seen much progress in construction. There is every reason to hope that this most important and nearly forty-year-old project will be finished in 1936.

Success has also been met with in the case of the Lung-Hai Railway extension scheme, the main line having been completed and tested as far as Shian, the capital of Shensi province, in December. Considerable progress was also made towards providing adequate harbour facilities at the coastal terminus of this line at Liangyun-Kiang on Hachow Bay, including the construction of a branch line from Talerchwan to Chaochwang.

OTHER PROJECTS

Work has already commenced some time on the building of the Yushan-Pinghsiang section of the Chekiang-Kiangsi-Hunan Railway. The line from Hanchow to Yushan was completed in 1933, and as this new section will carry it forward via Nanchang, the capital of Kiangsi, to Pinghsiang, where rail connection with Chuchow on the Canton-Hankow line already exists, the economic importance of the whole project to the agricultural, mining, and industrial interests of the area traversed can hardly be exaggerated.

This brief survey of some of the year's accomplishments in the matter of railway construction should not be closed without reference to the fact that arrangements have at last been made for completing the unfinished section, between Tsaoogo and Zakow, of the Shanghai-Hangchow-Ningpo line.

All the constructional progress, happily, has been accompanied by administrative progress, and the financial and credit position of the railways has noticeably strengthened during 1934, as evidenced by the much higher quotations now ruling for Chinese railway bonds in the stock markets of the world.—China United Press (by mail).

WATER POLO

Easy Chinese Win

The Chinese Athletic Association inflicted an easy defeat on the 12th Heavy Battery in a water-polo match that took place on Saturday at North Point, winning by 11 goals to one.

Brilliant positional play was responsible for the Association's victory. Chan Shek Pui, a former Athletic football star, in the pivotal position, being outstanding. Harris, his counterpart, played coolly for the losers but was poorly supported.

At half time the Athletic were leading by 4 goals to one. W. F. Lee and Y. T. Lam the winners each netting twice. Harris scored the only goal for the soldiers.

Seven goals were added in the next half by Lee (3) Lam (3) and W. K. Law (2).

The teams lined out as under: C.A.A.—P. T. Lau; W. K. Tsoy and F. S. Kwok; Chan Shek-pui; W. F. Lee, W. K. Law and Y. T. Lam.

R.A.—Gnr. Cooper; L/Bdr. Brooks and Gnr. Hudson; Gnr. Harris; L/Bdr. Fisher, Gnr. Beasley and Gnr. Lucas.

Carslake was more lucky in the next race, the Cotton Maiden Plate in which he rode Crampit. This filly had run most disappointingly at Wolverhampton at the beginning of the week. There must have been something wrong with her then, for yesterday she was always well placed and won with the greatest of ease from the well-backed Crayon, Kopples being third just in front of Fascia.

A fine day's racing was concluded with the Chorlton Plate, which was won easily by Barbary, who had run without prominence in the Derby.

WAR AGAINST OPIUM

Stern Steps To Be Adopted

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Shanghai, July 1.

Greater Shanghai also has its opium-suppression committee to help combat the opium evil in this city. The Committee, to be known as the Shanghai Municipal Opium-Suppression Committee, is organized by the City Government of Greater Shanghai and has been formally inaugurated today. Its work consists of bringing about the early eradication of the evil from Greater Shanghai, through registration of all opium addicts in this city, which will be completed by the end of this year.

The Committee is composed of seven persons. Mr. Aju Ya-Ching, General Manager of the San Peh Steam Navigation Company; Mr. Wang Hsiao-Lai, Chairman of the Greater Shanghai Provisional Municipal Council; Mr. Tu Yueh-Sheng, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Chung Wai Bank; Dr. Yen Fu-Ching, President of the Chinese Red Cross Hospital; Mr. Wang I-Ting, well-known philanthropist; Mr. Yu Tso-Ting, Chairman of the Shanghai City Chamber of Commerce; and Mr. Wang Fo-Chi, General Manager of the "Sin Wen Pao," leading local Chinese daily.

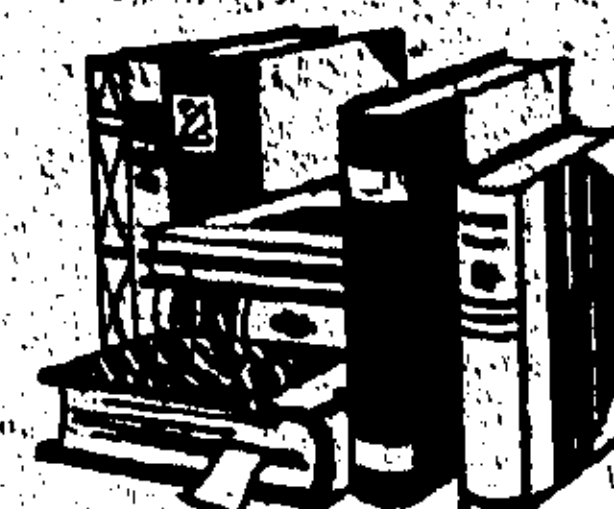

The Committee is to have a Standing Committee of three, to enforce the resolutions adopted by the Committee. The Committee will have the duty of supervising, directing, rectifying, planning, investigating and initiating the work of opium-suppression in Shanghai.

COMPULSORY REGISTRATION

In a public proclamation issued yesterday, the Greater Shanghai Municipal Government states that in accordance with the Regulations governing enforcement of opium-suppression, as announced by the Provisional Headquarters of the President of the Military Affairs Commission, registration of opium addicts in Greater Shanghai will be enforced as from July 1, and will be completed by the end of the 24th year. Those who fail to register with the Municipal authorities within this period will be punished in accordance with law.

During the registration period, registration certificates are to be issued by the City Government. A fee of $0.60 each will be charged, and the certificate will be valid for a period of six months only, though it may be renewed at the expiration of the period.

Properly registered opium addicts will be given medical cure at opium clinics (two of which have already been established in Nantao and Chapel). The poor will be given free medical treatment.—China United Press (by mail).

Physicians emphasize:

"Take Kalzana to conquer Weakness"

"Whenever there is evidence of disfunction in the body, lack of minerals is probably a contributing factor," writes Dr. H. F. W. B., London

"After a course of Kalzana the general condition improved, tiredness disappeared, the patient became more cheerful and the entire organism got strengthened and rejuvenated," writes Dr. Cl. R.

KALZANA the discovery of Prof. LOEW

MINERALS play a very important role in the body, for a shortage of these minerals is always followed by weakness and ill-health.

Any single organ may be first to suffer. In some people it will be the teeth which show up the existing mineral deficiency. Others will lose their power of resistance to colds and diseases. In women—irregularities of the functions is mostly due to the same cause: lack of vital minerals. Physicians now advise "take Kalzana tablets because they conquer the mineral deficiency." Kalzana brings exactly those vital elements into the body, the lack of which causes so many complaints. Kalzana was made to infuse these elements into the body, it is the outcome of patient research by that famous scientist Prof. Loew.

Follow the advice of Prof. Loew and thousands of physicians, and make Kalzana a daily addition to your diet. Then you will soon notice how much better and stronger you feel.

Kalzana

THE MINERAL FOOD FOR BETTER HEALTH

Obtainable at all Chemists and Stores

Made by the Manufacturers of SANATOGEN and FORMAMINT.

A few typical symptoms of mineral deficiency are:

General Weakness

Anæmia

Nervous Irritability

Skin Troubles

Tooth Decay

Low Resistance

to Colds and Infections

Feminine Complaints

The opinion of leading Medical Papers:—

"The Tung-Chi Medical Paper" writes:

"The regular administration of Kalzana in sufficient doses maintains normal blood alkalinity, replaces excessive loss of calcium from the tissues, markedly relieves many of the distressing symptoms of disease and definitely assists the body to overcome the infection."

That is the explanation why Kalzana is practised on an increasing scale by medical practitioners, and it has been scientifically proven that physicians can rely upon Kalzana.

That well-known Medical Paper, "The Practitioner" writes:

"Kalzana acts efficiently in promoting the growth of strong bones and healthy teeth—in reducing blood pressure and stimulating the glands and blood-forming organs."

Kalzana is indicated in the diet of expectant and nursing mothers, and of rapidly growing children, and in all conditions where a mineral food is required, particularly because Kalzana promotes calcium retention.

THREE KILLED
In Shanghai Gun
Battle

Shanghai, July 3.
Quick work on the part of detectives attached to the Yulin Road Police Station yesterday evening resulted in the surprise of a gang of armed robbers whilst they were still engaged in looting a small Chinese house. In a gun battle which ensued, three met their deaths, whilst a Chinese detective was injured in the thigh and stomach.

Information was received by the station shortly after 7.30 p.m. that four armed robbers had entered a small one-storey house at 156 Pingliang Road, and were still on the premises. A squad of detectives, both foreign and Chinese, immediately rushed to the scene, surrounding the house, which is just before Dainy Road, within five minutes of receiving the alarm. A search party then entered and proceeded upstairs. As they entered one of the rooms, the robbers opened fire, the Chinese detective who entered first falling with several wounds in the lower part of the abdomen and one on the inside of his thigh.

The fire was returned by the detectives who fired in all slightly over fifty shots. One of the robbers, attempting to escape by the attic and roof to an adjacent house, was seen by detectives posted outside. He was greeted by a fusillade of shots, and fell mortally wounded to the street below, dying shortly after.

TWO SPECTATORS HIT
Naturally enough, when the shooting commenced the street emptied rapidly. Two coolies, however, failed to reach safety in time, and were wounded by the flying bullets. They were taken to the Hospital of the Sacred Heart, where they were pronounced not to be in danger.

The Reserve Unit rading vans cruising in the Western District was informed that a shooting affray was in progress, and arrived on the scene shortly after the detectives had entered the room. Its crew found two dead men and one mortally wounded.

The house entered by the robbers is stated to be a very low class dwelling, and as the occupants were of the 'coolie type,' the actual amount the robbers could have made off with would have been very small.

The fourth robber was still alive at a late hour last night, but he is not expected to last out the day, as the central portion of his body is absolutely riddled with bullets. A revolver and two pistols comprised the robbers' armament, and it is estimated that they fired between twelve and fifteen bullets at the detectives on the stairway and in the street in their futile attempt at escape.

CHURCH WAR IN
GERMANYSpecial Department
To Investigate

(Special to "Hong Kong Daily Press")
(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages, Ordinances, 1891. Received, July 7, 4-30 a.m.)

Berlin, July 6.
The regulations for carrying out the new law recently passed by the Reich Government and providing for the creation of a special department at the Ministry of Interior for the settlement of legal disputes arising out of the conflict in the German Evangelical Church has now been published.

Under the regulations, the new department will be composed of three members who are to be appointed by the Reich Minister of Interior and must be either jurists or high state officials.

In the case of a legal dispute arising, the department will give all parties concerned, as well as the Regional Church and the Evangelical Reich Church as opportunity of stating their respective viewpoints.

The department may then pronounce its decision which will be binding, or to refer the matter to the law courts.

It is hoped that the new institution will be instrumental in adjusting the differences still prevailing in the German Protestant Church.

FOREIGN TRADE
OF CHINA

How To Balance It

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Shanghai, June 28.
In recent years economists, financial experts, and industrialists have generally agreed that a remedy for China's adverse balance of trade is essential to combat the acute financial crisis in this country. With the temporary lull in the present banking crisis, public attention has once more been directed to the problem of how to balance China's foreign trade.

In the opinion of Dr. P. Y. Ho, Director of the Bureau of Foreign Trade of the Ministry of Industry, to remedy China's unfavourable trade balance greater efforts should be made in increasing her export trade than in cutting down her imports. Getting down to brass tacks Dr. Ho offered a few suggestions:

SOME FACTS
First of all, standardization is needed. It is common knowledge that the secret of success in trade lies in genuineness of goods, cheapness of price and honesty in business dealing. The sad story of the decline of the Chinese silk, tea and tung oil trade in foreign markets in recent years serves as an excellent illustration of this point.

"Because of lack of standardization in quality, Dr. Ho pointed out, these once-famous Chinese products have not met the requirements of foreign merchants."

PRODUCTION COST
The second point which may be mentioned is the decrease of production cost. Dr. Ho said, "Whether or not the merchandise of a nation can stand on its own in foreign markets entirely depends upon its competitive capacity. Dr. Ho defines competitive capacity of a product in terms of its low price and superior quality, and the only way to achieve low price is to reduce its cost of production."

Summing up, Dr. Ho maintains that the promotion of China's foreign trade also depends upon rapid economic reconstruction within, because only the consolidation of the economic structure at home can increase the exports of Chinese products and at the same time enable native products to substitute foreign goods in the home market.

THE SALE OF WHEATBoard To Take Control

Ottawa, July 5.
The Senate has passed the Canadian Wheat Board Bill, under which a Board will be established to control the sale of Canadian wheat.

Speaking in the House of Commons, Mr. R. S. B. Bennett, the Prime Minister, assured the House that the Board would not launch out on a dumping policy to liquidate the Canadian wheat surplus at "fire sale" prices. There would be no dumping on the world market, he said.

Wheat holding of approximately two hundred million bushels are being taken over by the Board from Canadian co-operative wheat producers.

WAR OFFICE
DEMANDGrave Situation In Japan

Tokyo, July 2.

Officials of the Finance Ministry to-day prepared for the annual budgetary combat with the War Office, as reports gained currency that the army intended to ask for an appropriation of more than ¥814,000,000 in the 1936-37 fiscal year, the amount allotted to the army this year is ¥491,280,000.

Of the total, ¥140,000,000 will be asked by the War Ministry for next year's expenditures in Manchukuo, on the ground that the situation in the new Empire calls for continued expenses, it was learned from reliable sources.

In addition, the army will ask for ¥254,000,000 for ordinary expenditures; ¥100,000,000 for the armament replenishment programme; a similar amount for the strengthening of the air force; and ¥20,000,000 for improvement of war materials.

Political circles here believe that the War Office will insist that its estimates be accepted without changes, because of the alleged gravity of international situation.

Officials of the War Ministry are to meet to-morrow to discuss the estimates to be presented to the Finance Ministry for approval.

The Finance Ministry will have another battle on its hands when the Navy Office presents its estimates, which, according to reliable reports, will be about ¥700,000,000 as compared with ¥530,000,000 in the budget for the current year.

Mr. K. Takahashi, 81-year old Finance Minister, is known to be vigorously opposed to further increases in military expenses, which have grown from 27 per cent. of the total budget in 1930-31, prior to the Manchurian Incident, to 46.6 per cent. in the current year.

Although the entire budgetary outlay has increased since 1930-31 by 27 per cent., the portion allotted for national defence has grown by 130 per cent.

DRUGGED BY SPEEDThe Last Letter Of Lawrence

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, June 22.

These are the concluding sentences of what is believed to be the last letter written by Colonel T. E. Lawrence (Lawrence of Arabia).

"You wonder what I am doing? Well, so do I, truly. Days seem to dawn, suns to shine, evenings to follow, and then I sleep."

"What I have done, what I am doing; what I am going to do, puzzle and bewilder me."

"Have you ever left like a leaf, fallen from a tree in autumn and been really puzzled about it...? Peace to me and peace to everybody."

The letter, read by Sir Ronald Storrs at a literary luncheon in London yesterday, was written to a friend shortly before Lawrence met his death.

AN INVENTOR

Sir Ronald said that there was in existence a motor-cycle which Lawrence had built and which carried ten improvements invented by him. But he had never ridden it.

"Lawrence," added Sir Ronald, "never smoked or drank, but used one drug—the drug of speed which cost him his life."

The suggestion that Lawrence owed his success in Arabia to the money at his disposal was mentioned by Captain B. H. Liddell Hart, who said:

"That gold amounted to less than half a million pounds and the criticism is a foolish one which is only made by people who are ignorant of history, for perhaps never before has so small an amount produced so great a result."

LONDON SILVER PRICE

Fixing Delayed By Brokers

London, July 6.

An unprecedented development in the history of the bullion market occurred during the fixing of the price of silver in London today, when the brokers decided to delay the fixing in order to see whether America would enter the market.

The price is usually fixed on Saturday around 12 o'clock noon. To-day, however, it was not fixed until 2.45 p.m.

This morning brokers received very heavy selling orders from India and China, especially India, and if the price had been fixed in these orders a very sharp fall would have occurred. The brokers felt that such a price would not be a true reflection of market conditions and therefore returned to their offices in order to wait for America.

On reassembling America entered the market as a very heavy buyer, absorbing the Eastern offerings. The price accordingly only fell 5/16d. per ounce for Spot.

The market was finally described as steady.

ITALIAN REPORTS

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Rome, July 5.

The sensational reports of the alleged military preparations by Great Britain on the Upper Nile and along the Red Sea Coast were featured on Friday by the Italian Press which cites the Egyptian papers as stating that Great Britain is establishing new flying fields, buildings and new roads in Sudan near the Abyssinian frontier. It is moreover asserted that Great Britain intends to develop the Gulf of Asaba as a first-class strategic base.

The news agency, Azione Coloniale, publishes a despatch from Khartoum stating that a British gunboat, which for years had been stationed in the River Lobat, one of the chief entrances of South Abyssinia, has arrived at Gemela on the Red Sea.

All this is taken here as an indication that Great Britain is prepared to support Abyssinia, in the event of an armed conflict.

BERLIN BOURSE

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Berlin, July 5.

Demand continued to be brisk in the sharemarket on Friday so that the prices continued rising, especially those of the shares whose dividends were always regular. This sustained improvement in the sharemarket, despite the high price level now prevailing, is attributed first to the successful outcome of Beck's Berlin visit, second to the fact that sales of coal and iron which usually fall this season, continue to go high, and third to the improved state of the export business, metallurgicals being especially brisk. Fixed interest securities were little in demand but the price trend was erratic. Call Money rose from 2 to 3.

SHIP EQUIPMENT SALE

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Hamburg, July 5.

The interior equipment of the former German 22,000-ton luxury liner, "Gap Polonia", which for many years was the largest and the most popular liner in the South American service, was sold at an auction here on Friday, preliminary to the vessel being scrapped.

Fancy prices were paid for some of the fittings, the ship's nameplate being knocked down for 800 marks and the ship's bell for 125 to 150 marks each, while the fittings of the social halls, smoking room and the luxury cabins also fetched high prices.

The auction will be brought to a close on Saturday after which not much more will be left of the once stately vessel than the hull and engines.
